LEADERS OF INDIA'S MILLIONS DEBATE ON OFFER FROM BRITAIN

Sir Stafford Cripps Awaiting Acceptance or Refusal of Free Constitutional Equality After War With Immediate Seat in War Cabinet—Various Executive Meetings Are in Progress

NEW DELHI, India, March 30 (AP).—Sir Stafford Cripps took directly to the people of India tonight Britain's offer of an immediate seat in the War Cabinet and free constitutional equality after the war, but debates among leaders of this sub-continent's divergent millions delayed any straight-away yes or no answer.

Sir Stafford, British Cabinet member who came out to marshal India's strength against the imminent threat of Japanese invasion, made it clear that the Indians must accept quickly or not at all.

DEFINITE AND PRECISE

Broadcasting to India tonight, he declared:

"Our proposals are definite and precise. If they are rejected, nothing can be done until after the war."

The gist of Britain's pledge he gave as follows:

"The British Government and the British people desire the Indian people to have full self-government, with a constitution as free in every respect as our own in Great Britain or as any of the great Dominion members of the British Commonwealth of Nations . . .

"India would be associated with the United Kingdom and the other Dominions by a common allegiance

IS SILENT ON ENEMY CLAIMS

Nazis Report Attack on Murmansk-Bound Convoy—British Sink Supply Ship

LONDON, March 30 (AP).—The Germans claimed destruction of a Murmansk-bound transport laden with American-made tanks and munitions today, at a cost of a Nazi destroyer, sunk in a convoy attack which may have been the first big-scale sea and air battle for command of the Allied far northern route to Russia.

Official London was silent on this German report, which said a British cruiser was torpedoed, but in its own offensive against the Germans in the North the air ministry announced Royal Air Force patrol planes torpedoed and probably sunk a German supply ship and set another afire last night in operations off the Norwegian and Danish Coasts. Torpedoes were aimed at two other Nazi vessels, but the results were not perceived.

MAY BE OPENING PHASE

For some time Britain has expected a determined Nazi effort to cut the Allied route to Murmansk, informed circles said, because the Germans are beginning to feel the sharp effect of United States and British supplies reaching Murmansk. Today's Berlin report, they added, may signal the opening phase of, this struggle.

The 35,000-ton German battleship Tirpitz was forced back into a Norwegian port early this month by British torpedo planes after she attempted to reach the open seas. On that occasion she failed to get within 300 miles of her intended prey—a convoy which later reached Russia. Later reports have indicated the Tirpitz may be at sea again.

May Lend Silver for War Uses

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP). — Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau said today that the Treasury may lend a large quantity of silver to the United States aluminum industry for use as a wartime copper substitute. He said the loan was suggested by the War Production Board, and would be made if Treasury lawyers said it was legal.

FILLING THE GAPS

BERNE, March 30 (AP).—Eighty thousand German women, 90,000 foreign civilians and 20,000 prisoners have been put to work on German railways to fill the gaps caused by the call of skilled workers to military service, said reports from Germany today.

CORPS HEAD IN BRITAIN

Gen. McNaughton Returns To Command—More Troops Reach England

A BRITISH PORT, March 30 (CP) —Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, fresh from conferences in Ottawa and Washington and an inspection of Canada's war industry, has arrived back in Britain aboard a troopship. With him came new thousands of Canadian fighting men.

The commander of the Canadian Corps crossed the Atlantic with army and air force personnel, who swell the forces in the United Kingdom for whatever 1942 has to offer. Gen. McNaughton predicted it would be "a big year."

The arrivals included bronzed men of armored formations, engineers, artillerymen, Army Service Corps, chaplain service, Medical Corps, infantry and airmen. They landed in Britain fit and eager to join their units after a swift but uneventful voyage.

For the men the trip was a succession of days of routine fatigues, walks and games on deck, and boat drills. Gen. McNaughton took part in the boat drills just as any other passenger and snapped to attention at the command of the officer of his boat.

ONE STOWAWAY

There was one passenger—a stowaway—whom the ship's company had not counted on when the troops came aboard. He was a Pte. Brown from a regiment on guard in the Canadian port from which the troops sailed. He was discovered after one day out and afterward carried on as any other soldier aboard, doing his regular share of shipboard chores.

Nobody was much upset about his presence and on the quiet one offi-

WARNS HOARDERS WILL PAY DEARLY

Wartime Prices Board Says Will "Crack Down Hard" on Violators

TORONTO, March 30 (CP).—Canada's Wartime Prices and Trade Board will "crack down—hard" on hoarders, Chairman Donald Gordon of Ottawa warned in an interview here today.

A hoarder, incidentally, was defined by Mr. Gordon as "any person who buys anything—and I mean anything—beyond his immediate needs."

Although that would have been considered a drastic definition six months ago, it wasn't now, he added, "because the war has speeded up, the Japs are at our throats and we are short many materials which were abundant six months ago."

New Pacific War Council Formed By U.S. President

Canada Among Seven Countries Represented on Body at Washington Established at Insistence of Australia and New Zealand—Will Deal With Matters of Policy

WASHINGTON, March 30 (CP).—Canada was given a seat on the new Pacific War Council of the United Nations, announced here today by President Roosevelt and representing seven countries fighting Japan on the wide Pacific.

The council which the President said will be concerned with "matters of policy relating to our joint war effort," and "will be in intimate contact with a similar body in London," will consist of representatives of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Britain, the United States, China and the Netherlands.

The first meeting of the council will be held Wednesday with Canada being represented by Hume Wrong, counsellor of the Canadian Legation, due to the absence of Minister Leighton McCarthy on a short vacation.

GOVERNMENTAL CONTACT

The council, established mainly at the insistence of Australia and New Zealand, will consist of maintaining direct contact among governments concerned in the Pacific struggle, and will not be charged with direction of the day-to-day military operations which will continue to be

SOLDIERS TIED UP AND BEATEN

Chinese Banker Reports Canadians Brutally Treated By Captors in Hongkong

LONDON, March 31 (Tuesday) (CP).—A Daily Express dispatch from Calcutta today quoted an unnamed Chinese banker as saying that Canadian soldiers captured when the Japanese took Hongkong were tied up and beaten.

O. D. Gallagher, The Express correspondent, said the banker, a resident of the Repulse Bay Hotel in Hongkong for four days after the Japanese occupation, told him this story:

"The hotel guests went into the street and saw fifteen Canadian soldiers ranged alongside the roadside. The soldiers were stripped to their waists and forced to their knees. Ropes were tied around their heads, with knots in their mouths. Their hands were tied behind their backs.

BORE BLUE WELTS

"Each Canadian was roped thus and all fifteen were roped in line by a long rope. Over them stood a Japanese soldier holding a long, thin rod. The backs of the kneeling Canadians bore blue welts.

A car driven by a Canadian officer turned and was stopped by the Japs. They pulled him from the car and hit him in the mouth. He, too, was stripped to the waist, roped and forced to kneel.

"Watching hotel residents were then moved away by the Japanese. We heard the sound of shots some minutes afterwards."

Gallagher said he was unable to name the banker as the Japanese would "Gestapo" his relatives at Hongkong, but added he had passed the man's name on to the British Intelligence Corps.

RED CROSS TO SEEK $9,000,000

Two Weeks' Campaign to Be Launched Throughout Canada on May 11

TORONTO, March 30 (CP). — An appeal for $9,000,000 in voluntary contributions to the work of the Red Cross Society will be launched throughout Canada May 11 and through the succeeding two weeks, it was announced here today in a joint statement by Jackson Dodds, chairman of the central council, and Mr. Justice F. H. Gordon, chairman of the national executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

"The Canadian Red Cross Society needs urgently a minimum of $9,000,000 in order to carry on its work for the current twelve months in the mitigation of human suffering," the statement declared, continuing: "This is the first appeal since October, 1940, to the voluntary generosity of the Canadian people.

VOLUNTARY SUBSCRIPTION

"The Government of Canada recently arranged to supply the funds needed by various war service organizations, but the Canadian Red Cross Society was necessarily excluded from that arrangement. The reason for this is that the Red Cross Society is international. Its positions rests upon the conventions of Geneva ratified by act of Parliament. These require the Red Cross Society to be supported by voluntary subscriptions, and it is only by maintaining such support that the Canadian Red Cross Society can command the rights, privileges and immunities guaranteed under international law. No belligerent government may finance the Canadian Red Cross Society; to do so would be to destroy the international status of the society and even wipe out its immunity under fire."

CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTOR

LOS ANGELES, March 30 (AP). — Chairman A. H. Peir, of the Selective Service, Local Board No. 346, said today that motion picture actor Lewis Ayres had been granted classification as a conscientious objector and is leaving tonight for a camp "somewhere in Oregon or the State of Washington."

MANY YET TO GET COUPONS

Little More Than Half of Canadian Motorists Ready To Buy Rationed Gas

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP).—Only half the motorists in Canada will be able to buy gasoline when rationing comes into effect April 1, Munitions and Supply Department officials estimated tonight after scanning reports from regional offices of the oil controller.

Ration licences sales have been heaviest in Ontario which has 576,000 motor vehicles, but only 321,000 licences have been issued. Definite figures were not available for other provinces, but summarized reports indicated the sale of ration licences runs from one-third to one-half the number of vehicle licences.

MUST HAVE COUPON

When drivers pull into service stations Wednesday morning it will be a case of "no coupon, no gasoline," one official said tonight.

Posters have been distributed to all service stations explaining how the rationing plan works and penalties up to five years' imprisonment or a fine up to $5,000 are provided for infractions. Already action has been taken in padlocking pumps of some companies which have violated pre-ration restrictions and warning has been given that spotters will be on duty, commencing on Wednesday, to check infractions of the ration law.

LIKELY TO FACE DELAY

Those who have not yet applied for ration licences are likely to face a delay of several days before their licence is received and they are again able to buy gasoline, officials said tonight.

Possession of a ration book is, however, no guarantee of the amount of driving the average motorist will be able to enjoy in the Spring and Summer months.

Munitions Minister Howe a few days ago warned motorists they are riding on their last set of tires "until some considerable time after the war ends." For many motorists this means that the rubber shortage rather than a gasoline shortage will end wartime driving.

The amount of gasoline allowed each car has been described by Mr. Howe as "the maximum quantity . . . which, under present conditions, the Government dares to release for these purposes."

BRITISH BOMBERS ATTACK SHIPPING

Operate Off Norwegian Coast—R.A.F. Using Fast Machines to Blast Enemy Targets

LONDON, March 30 (CP).—British bombers attacked enemy shipping off the Norwegian Coast last night, the Air Ministry announced today, but informed sources said there were no major operations over German territory.

Amplifying previous reports on air assaults on Germany last week, a communique said that two German fighters were destroyed over Luebeck, Saturday night, and one over the Ruhr, Thursday night.

The R.A.F. is using fast fighter bombers to pepper German airdromes and industrial targets in occupied countries at night while long-range heavy bombers are blasting Germany itself, the Air Ministry said.

British Tanks in Action in Burma

LONDON, March 31 (Tuesday) (CP).—A Reuter's dispatch from Maymyo, Burma, said that British tanks attacked the Japanese and inflicted heavy casualties upon the enemy yesterday thirty miles south of Prome, right wing of the Allied Burmese Front.

Ralston and Power Visiting Defences in Prince Rupert Area

Defence and Air Ministers Arrive on Coast After Trip Interrupted by Forced Landing—Joint Plans Are in Readiness for Emergency

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP).—Defence Minister Ralston and Air Minister Power saw from the air today the 500 miles of rugged British Columbia coastline which forms Canada's Pacific bastion, as they flew northward to Prince Rupert to begin an inspection of West Coast defences.

The two ministers took off from here in two twin-engined Royal Canadian Air Force amphibians, accompanied by four senior staff officers. Before he took off today, Col. Ralston termed the rugged Pacific Coast as a sector of continuous North American defence and declared that joint Canadian-United States defence plans are in readiness for any emergency and "there won't be a moment's delay if and when the time comes."

AIR SUPERIORITY TAKEN FROM JAPANESE IN TWO DISTRICTS INDICATION OF IMPROVEMENT

Local Advantage Gained Over New Guinea and New Britain—Air Minister A. S. Drakeford Declares Successes of Australian and American Airmen Have Made Difference

Only Thrust Made by Land Back at Its Starting Point

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 30 (AP).—The Australian and United States Air Force now hold local superiority over both New Guinea and New Britain, Air Minister A. S. Drakeford declared today in a stock-taking that disclosed a marked general improvement in the position of the defenders of Australia.

This superiority, he said, was "as marked as any throughout the Pacific war with the possible exception of air operations at the opening of the Burma campaign."

He added, moreover, that probably more than 10 per cent of Japan's entire cruiser strength now had been crippled by Australian and American bombers and fighters in running attacks on the enemy beachhead about Lae in Eastern New Guinea, and he concluded with this heartening summary:

MARKED DIFFERENCE

"These successes, achieved by comparatively small forces, are no longer to be regarded as merely of tactical significance. They have made a marked strategical difference to the war."

Drakeford also announced that at least forty-eight Japanese bombers and fighters had been destroyed or probably destroyed in the Australian theatre in recent weeks. At least fifteen more were damaged.

(London informants said Allied figures had shown that 1,025 Japanese planes had been destroyed since Pearl Harbor—a sixth to a fourth of the total enemy air force.)

While Mr. Drakeford was thus

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, March 30 (By Cable).—The War Cabinet's plan of creating an Indian union which after the war shall constitute a dominion associated with the United Kingdom and other Dominions by common allegiance to the Crown, is described by The Times editorially as "a concrete fulfillment of Britain's past pledges."

Its acceptance by the Indians will mean that both countries will be fighting side by side with renewed strength for a freedom in which both are henceforth equally interested. New enthusiasm will inspire and enlarge the splendid contribution which Indian troops and Indian factories are already making to the war. Indians also will be drawn into positions of greater responsibility for decisions of policy and strategy.

Dealing with the heroic attack on the German-occupied harbor of St. Nazaire, The Times describes the feat of wrecking the dock gates and harbor works as resembling the raid on Zeebrugge in the last war. In each instance a German submarine base was smashed by an old warship laden with explosives and the German defenders were surprised and thrown into confusion.

The earlier German announcements about the raid showed the Nazis thought the whole of Brittany was being invaded on a large scale. The Germans destroyed one of their own anti-aircraft ships in the prevailing confusion.

Almost as valuable as the material damage, adds The Times, is the moral effect of such attacks on the enemy.

The whole area at Staraya Russa, on the eastern front, where the German 16th Army is encircled, is now under fire from Soviet field artillery. Nazi forces here have already been reduced from 100,000 men to half that number. The position at Rhzev resembles that of Staraya Russa, with the Russian pincers remorselessly closing in on the enemy.

In a survey of the Winter's fighting The Times' Moscow correspondent says the campaign has been one of the bitterest ever fought. The Red Army not only prevented the invaders from resting, but prevented also their reorganization. To hold their positions the Germans have had to scour Europe for further cannon fodder. Of 200 Nazi divisions engaged since June last, only a few have been able to withdraw for a rest. Moreover, the enemy now holds no lines at all, only zones of fighting cut off here and there by victorious Soviet forces or struggling to prevent complete encirclement.

Everywhere Red troops menace the Nazi supply lines. The Russians now have huge armies in reserve and their factories have performed great feats of production. Substantial aid has also been forthcoming from Britain. So great has been the strain on the invaders they have had to move forty extra divisions into Russia to hold the Red Army's onset.

TO INCREASE LIMIT

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP).—The White House said today that President Roosevelt had signed legislation to increase the limit of the Federal debt to $125,000,000,000. The old limit was $85,000,000,000.

AREA REWON BY RUSSIANS

Soviet Forces Liberate Twenty Communities in Smolensk Sector

MOSCOW, March 30 (AP).—Russian forces in the Smolensk sector directly west of Moscow have liberated another region from German occupation after a two-day battle, official front line dispatches said tonight.

Twenty communities were taken over by the Soviets after the German line broke late last week, it was reported.

Heavy German losses were claimed in Russian military reports from the Smolensk battle front. More than 1,500 officers and soldiers were reported to have died under Russian hammering during a ten-day onslaught.

NO SUBSTANTIAL CHANGE

Tonight's Soviet communique said that during the day there was no substantial change in the front. It listed twenty-five German planes destroyed yesterday against twelve Soviet losses.

Swedish reports reaching London said heavy fighting was diminishing on the northern end of the front, possibly indicating both the Germans and the Russians are getting ready for Spring campaigns.

Frozen Lakes, rivers and swamps in the Vyazma, Staraya Russa and Leningrad sectors are beginning to soften up on warm afternoons, thus forcing changes in battle lines and firing positions, these reports declared.

RIOM WAR GUILT TRIAL TO SUSPEND

Court to Adjourn on April 2 for Two Weeks—Hearings May Not Be Resumed

VICHY, France, March 30 (AP).—The Riom war guilt trial will be suspended from April 2 to April 15, and although there was no official announcement, it is doubtful whether it will be resumed.

The trial of persons accused of responsibility for France's defeat opened in February.

The Nazis have frequently expressed dissatisfaction with the turn taken by the trial. It had been predicted that if the court was to complete the hearings they would probably continue into May or even later.

SURVIVES FALL FROM HIGHWAY

Car Plunges 500 Feet to Fraser River—Man Is Injured

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP). — James R. Farrell, thirty-year-old Vancouver merchant seaman, who came through air attacks in the Mediterranean without a scratch, is in hospital at Lytton, B.C., suffering from head injuries after his car plunged 500 feet to the river bottom yesterday at a point eleven miles west of Boston Bar, in the Fraser Canyon.

Farrell's companion in the car, William Edward Johnston, fifty-nine, his stepfather, was thrown clear of the car before it toppled from the edge of the canyon road. Farrell lay bleeding in the wreckage for five hours before Johnston recovered consciousness and summoned aid.

The injured man was raised to the road by ropes after a party of three, led by Constable Kelly Irvine, of the Provincial Police Spuzzum detachment, had descended into the canyon and strapped the injured man to a stretcher. Constable Irvine said it took the party an hour and a half to lift the injured man.

LEAVES OFFICE IN WASHINGTON

Australian Government Accepts Decision of Casey With Great Regret

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP). —The C.B.S. short wave listening station heard the Melbourne radio station tonight quoting Prime Minister John Curtin that the Australian Minister to Washington, Richard G. Casey, would relinquish his post "as from midnight tonight."

"Last Friday," the Melbourne station said, "Mr. Curtin cabled Mr. Casey that he wanted him to know that the Commonwealth Government accepted the decision he had made with great regret."

Casey has been selected as Minister of State to represent the British War Cabinet in the Middle East. He has served as Australia's first Minister to Washington since March 5, 1940.

Reports Loss of British Cruiser

LONDON, March 30 (CP).—The loss of the cruiser Naiad was announced tonight.

The Naiad was one of ten cruisers of the 5,450-ton Dido class and was completed in 1939. She carried ten 5.25-inch guns, sixteen smaller weapons, six twenty-one-inch torpedo tubes and one airplane and catapult.

Chinese Fighting for Mandalay Road Spoil Efforts of Japanese

Forces Holding Toungoo Counter-Attack Fiercely With British Also Taking Offensive on Western Flank in Battle of Burma

NEW DELHI, March 30 (CP).—Fierce counter-attacks by Chinese forces holding on at Toungoo and battling at bayonet point for the road to Mandalay, appeared tonight to have smashed Japanese efforts to deal first with the Chinese at the eastern flank of the Burma line, and then turn upon British forces along the Irrawaddy.

Lieut.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese troops reported the capture of a Japanese battalion headquarters at Nangyun on Sunday and said they had driven the Japanese from Kyungon airfield, ten miles north of Toungoo.

On their western flank, the British troops turned upon Japanese columns crawling north toward Prome and opened what appeared to be a sharp counter-offensive of their own.

Lieut.-Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's armored formations, rested and refitted since their earlier action in the Burma battle, struck down the Irrawaddy Road at two Japanese columns.

The All-India Radio said the Japanese had penetrated to the northwest of Toungoo and held the west-

Organizations Seek Military Guards on Watershed Property

United Security Council Representing Twenty Clubs, Societies and Groups Urges Mayor and Aldermen to Seek Protection of Water System

A STRONG request that the City Council immediately ask military authorities to provide adequate protection for water reservoirs and flow lines serving Greater Victoria was made by the United Organizations Security Council before Mayor Andrew McGavin and aldermen yesterday afternoon. F. A. D. Manning introduced the speakers, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.P.P., and Mrs. A. P. Rayment.

Mrs. Hodges pointed out that military authorities protected the water system during the Great War. She felt a greater degree of vulnerability existed in the present world-wide conflict, and therefore even more guards should be provided. She reminded the council that an aggressor would first make an attempt to cripple the water system.

Mrs. Rayment insisted that the council lose no time in requesting military authorities to guard reservoirs and flow lines. She read a petition from United Organizations Security Council representing twenty organizations in the city.

Mayor McGavin replied, "Your resolution is much appreciated by the council. Within the next three or four days when Hon. J. L. Ralston arrives we shall use it to strengthen our hands. We shall give your request our most serious consideration." The water board was then asked to confer on protection of the water system, and will be joined by the war emergency committee.

In dealing with other general business the council received a letter from the Victoria Contractors' Association appreciating the stand taken in requiring Wartime Housing, Limited to observe building standards. The letter stated local contractors were unable to construct houses because they could not obtain electric wiring.

MOTION OF REGRET

Silent tribute was paid to the memory of the late Reeve John R. Scoby, of Saanich. A motion of regret was passed to relatives at the suggestion of Alderman Gadsden.

Claude Cherer, concessionaire at Thetis Lake Park, was given authority to sub-let a farm on the property. Alderman John A. Worthington was appointed a representative to the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce. A letter from the Provincial Secretary stated that not more than 1,000 Mennonites would be brought to British Columbia at any one time as auxiliary forest fire fighters, and they would be paid fifty cents per day and board by the Federal Government. Mayor McGavin was requested to attend a conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, at Ottawa, from May 26 to 28, to discuss A.R.P., civilian defence and defence of the Pacific Coast.

GRAVE FIRE HAZARD

A letter from the War Emergency Committee stated members had informed Premier John Hart of the grave fire hazard created by gasoline and oil storage tanks on the Industrial Reserve; that any explosions would endanger Johnson Street Bridge and Inner Harbor property; members of the committee could take no responsibility, and suggested removal of the tanks to a safer location. In reply to the letter the Premier asserted fire protection within city limits was a responsibility of the City Council, but the fire marshal had been asked to look into the tank question.

The Premier's letter was tabled for one week. Mayor McGavin revealed another meeting would be held to discuss a fireboat for the harbor. Alderman George thought barrier walls could be constructed to confine fires and explosions. Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan reported Inspector Arthur Bishop was investigating.

"We could not fight a fire on two sides," Mayor McGavin declared. "It has been suggested that we purchase one of the former Japanese fishing vessels and fit it up with pumps at a cost of $15,000, and maintenance would cost another $500 per month or more. If oil and gasoline tanks exploded, nothing would halt the spread of fire. They might be safer half filled with water. The gasoline stored in the tanks is badly needed," he added.

NOT MUCH HOPE

"It looks as if the Government did not intend to help us with wartime protection. There are also oil tanks in Esquimalt, at the mouth of the Outer Harbor. We must keep alive the question of fire protection." Alderman Archie Wills urged.

Parks committee was asked to deal with a request from Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association for permission to use Royal Athletic Park on April 4.

Purchase of a $120 siren for Johnson Street bridge was authorized. A $1,355 sewer extension on Mars Street was ordered. Sidewalk extensions were planned on Richmond Avenue, McCaskill Street and Bay Street at a total cost of $1,864. An offer of J. Arendell to demolish an old house at 2536 Blanshard Street for $20 was accepted.

RUBBISH REMOVAL

Aldermen decided to ask the owners of all vacant lots to remove rubbish, tall grass and bushes likely to become fire hazards.

Lands committee sales ratified included southeast corner of Wilson Street and Dominion Road, $100; east side of Craigdarroch Road, near Joan Crescent, $500; south side of Pembroke Street, between Government and Douglas Streets, $900, and property on the west side of Foul Bay Road, between Fort and Bouchier Streets, $200.

On motion of Alderman Davies a hearty vote of thanks was extended to John Dean for gifts of books, reports and data on municipal affairs, two cabinets for books, and offers of cash to aid various projects.

On motion of Alderman Wills, it was agreed that any individual or organization wishing to address the [illegible] must have its request written application and then file a brief if such permission were granted.

Aldermen were asked to make first-hand investigations of the parking problem in James Bay in the vicinity of the shipyard. Alderman Williams stated many complaints had been received from property owners, and the public works committee would present a report at the next council meeting.

ARREARS PAYMENTS

Alderman Hawkins, chairman of the lands committee, stated he had discovered the lands department was owed $5,396.36 in payments due on fifteen-year property agreements; $10,136.42 on five-year agreements; $7,206 from so-called "cash sales," and taxes of $3,767.12 in arrears, a total of $37,654.35. Aldermen expressed surprise at the state of affairs and decided to take immediate steps to collect the money due to the city. Weekly reports were requested. Phil Raymond, an employee of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau for the past twelve years, was transferred to the city lands department as assistant to the acting lands commissioner and general collector.

Alderman Morgan was asked to collaborate with the relief committee in an attempt to secure stove wood for indigent families. Alderman George pointed out that the fuel situation was serious and poor persons could not afford to pay the prices asked for wood. Alderman Gadsden was asked to interview the Public Utilities Commission with a view to having a ceiling placed on wood prices. Mayor McGavin stated he had requested R. W. Mayhew, M.P., to urge the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to immediately investigate the wood situation.

The council learned indirectly there was a possibility that a $500,000 factory for high-grade machine tools required for war production might be constructed here. It was also suggested that Wartime Housing, Limited, might construct 100 or more houses here if the organization was allowed to dispense with plaster and stucco. The lands committee was given power to negotiate.

NEW PACIFIC WAR COUNCIL IS FORMED

operated by the combined chiefs of staff committee in Washington.

How the council will function "in intimate contact" with the London Council remains to be seen.

When he arrived here ten days ago to press Australia's case, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian Minister of External Affairs, also said the Anzac Governments sought representation on the combined chiefs of staff committee, and a second committee which was established to allocate arms and munitions among the United Nations. Whether he has succeeded in this was not apparent today.

MATTERS OF POLICY

"It is imperative," President Roosevelt said in announcing that the council had been set up, "that all the United Nations now actively engaged in the Pacific conflict consider together matters of policy relating to our joint war effort.

"An effective war can only be prosecuted with the complete co-operation and understanding of all the nations concerned. The new council will be in intimate contact with a similar body in London."

The Pacific Council created in London on February 9 granted representation only to Britain, the Netherlands, Australia and New Zealand.

Just how the Washington Council will operate was not defined clearly. Presumably it will consider problems of production and supply, shipping, foreign policy and perhaps war strategy.

Only British and American officers are members of the combined chiefs of staff now. Whether generals and admirals of the other United Nations engaged in the Pacific conflict might gain representation on this body also was not disclosed.

FOR COMMON WAR EFFORT

Dr. Evatt said the council should "facilitate joint planning for the higher direction of our common war effort," but he cautioned that the mere establishment of a new body "should not create any false feeling of security."

Walter Nash, Minister for New Zealand, issued a statement saying the creation of the new Pacific Council would be "warmly welcomed in New Zealand."

It is important, he said, that "the 'little' voices should be heard as well as the 'big' ones in the councils of war and the councils of peace."

Nash added that the new step would "not affect the relations of New Zealand with Great Britain."

DEEP SATISFACTION

MELBOURNE, March 30 (CP).—Prime Minister John Curtin hailed the creation of the Pacific War Council in Washington today, saying the decision was "a source of deep satisfaction."

"Australia now will have a voice in the higher direction of the war in the Pacific," he declared.

He said the decision was the culmination of long efforts by the Australian Government.

WELCOMED AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP).—Formation in Washington of the new Pacific Council was welcomed by an official Government spokesman today.

"Canada welcomes the formation of this council and expects that it will perform a very useful task," said this official of the External Affairs Department.

TWO MINISTERS GO TO PRINCE RUPERT

J. O. Murchie, vice-chief of the general staff at National Defence Headquarters, at Ottawa. He was en route East after an inspection of the Prince Rupert area, but changed his plans, returning here tonight by train. He took off immediately in a special R.C.A.F. plane for a quick trip north to join the inspection party.

The party planned two stops in the northward flight to Prince Rupert. They plan to return to Vancouver Island Wednesday, when they will inspect the military training centre at Nanaimo and confer with Premier Hart and Lieut.-Gov. W. C. Woodward, at Victoria. Thursday they will inspect defences in the Victoria area, and probably return to Vancouver the following day.

Neither Col. Ralston nor Major Power would discuss the state of Pacific Coast defences prior to their inspection, saying they would be better able to speak about them when they return. No newsmen accompanied the air party to Prince Rupert.

MAKES FORCED LANDING

The two ministers arrived here late last night with Pensions Minister Mackenzie in an R.C.A.F. ship after a flight from Ottawa. During the trip westward, Col. Ralston's plane was forced to make a belly landing on an ice-covered lake near Fauquier, Ont., and it was three hours before he was picked up by a rescue plane.

In his press conference the Defence Minister said the 7th and 8th Divisions of Canada's active army would be mobilized as rapidly as possible. He said the manpower problem was "very complex" and was under continual study. The Government's answer to those who said troops should be kept in Canada for defence was the announcement that no change would be made in the programme for sending men overseas.

Col. Ralston said that if male residents of British Columbia were worried about West Coast defences his advice was that they join the reserve army or home guard units. Members of the latter, whose duties would be to help protect particular localities, should not be regarded as "guerillas" but as members of the militia.

FUEL LINE CLOGGED

The plane on which Col. Ralston was traveling with Major Power, Lieut.-Col. George Currie, the Defence Minister's executive assistant, Air Vice-Marshal N. R. Anderson and three others made a belly landing on a remote lake near Fauquier, Ont., late Saturday when a fuel line clogged.

Their first assistance came from a farmhouse nearly a mile away from which the farmer's son floundered out with a spare set of snowshoes on which all but one of the party hiked in turn to the house through deep snow.

The exception was Col. Ralston, who was picked up by a bush pilot from Kapuskasing, Ont., who risked a landing on the slushy ice to effect the rescue.

It was the pilot's second attempt to reach the group. He had set out to comb the countryside when a telephone call from Fauquier to Kapuskasing announced a plane was down in the district.

Another plane which had left Ottawa on a westward flight and included among its passengers Pensions Minister Ian Mackenzie and Air Vice-Marshal L. S. Breadner, chief of Canadian air staff, had already landed at Kapuskasing.

CONSIDERABLE ANXIETY

Mr. Mackenzie said considerable anxiety had been felt for the plane on which Col. Ralston and Major Power were traveling before a telephone report gave the scene of the crash.

The first direct word from any member of the party came Saturday night, when Col. Currie reached Fauquier after a trip by dog-team, horse and on foot and telephoned to Kapuskasing.

Railway handcars were sent in to Fauquier and at 3 a.m., Sunday, the party had been brought out to Kapuskasing, whence Col. Ralston and Major Power continued westward with Mr. Mackenzie and Air Vice-Marshal Breadner.

The plane suffered only slight damage in the crash landing, which was due to a plugged fuel line. The wheels were kept retracted to prevent it from somersaulting if it struck a snowdrift.

ger suggested: "I wish I had 6,000 of them."

Measles and mumps came to the troops during the trip, but nothing serious. During the measles siege air force officers quartered across the corridor from a nurses' cabin hung a sign on the nurses' doors: "Measles, keep out." The girls changed this to read: "No measles but still keep out."

The air force men in the troop movement included P.O. Bob Frame of Victoria.

Speaking of the coming months in an interview before disembarking, General McNaughton said: "No appropriate opportunity to kick the other fellow—the enemy—in the back will be wasted. We are always looking for it. On the other hand, there will be nothing foolhardy or likely to involve needless loss of life."

ARMY OF TWO CORPS

There was no doubt, Gen. McNaughton said, that the announced plans for formation of a Canadian overseas army of two corps would be completed in the near future. The force would be built up to three infantry divisions, two armored divisions, two army tank brigades with all corps army lines of communication and base units additional.

The formations required are being trained in Canada and will be brought overseas as rapidly as shipping is available, he said.

Of his trip to Canada and Washington, the general had this to say:

"It was an extremely valuable trip, one in which we accomplished a great deal which should help us over here. I feel sure the decisions taken will bring useful results. I don't know of a single thing left unsettled.

"We were able to bring all the various problems of organization and administration to a focus and find satisfactory answers to all questions at issue.

"It is quite evident that the Government and people of Canada are thoroughly determined that the maximum support in this war against Hitler will be given and that applies not only to the army but to the air force and, equally important, to industry."

GREETED ON ARRIVAL

The general, who was accompanied by Mrs. McNaughton, was met here by Major-General P. J. Montague, in charge of Canadian Military Headquarters. Lieut.-General H. D. G. Crerar, acting commander of the corps during General MacNaughton's absence, greeted his chief at Euston Station, London.

General McNaughton then left for his headquarters to launch the work connected with the new development in the organization of the larger Canadian force decided in Ottawa.

Asked to comment on the persistent advocacy of the British press for offensive action against Germany, he said: "We don't win wars by sitting in defensive positions, however important they are.

"With the Canadian forces here we've had two things in front of us—to contribute the maximum of our power to help in the defence of the British Isles and to prepare ourselves for attack on the Germans abroad as soon as the proper opportunity comes."

QUESTION OF PATIENCE

He said that the proper time to strike would come and added: "But again there is the question of patience. It doesn't do any good to use troops prematurely. What we want is no blow struck casually but some continuing effect on the enemy."

General McNaughton said that his survey while in Canada might be divided into three parts for purposes of description: (1) The basic training of the Canadian Army; (2) industry and its progress on war weapons; (3) development by Canadian industry of new war devices which will make Allied armament the more effective.

"The time has come," he said, "when Canadian industry can use its wits and develop something better than the Nazis have got."

He was "literally amazed" at the conversion of industry to wartime production and added that now this conversion has been achieved "some of us feel the best brains in industry can be spared to develop newer weapons to keep ahead of the enemy."

Only those who are not afraid of death are worthy of life.

TRIBUTE PAID C.C.F. LEADER

Work of Late J. S. Woodsworth Praised at Memorial Service Here

Several hundred Victoria citizens, at a memorial service held Sunday night at the Chamber of Commerce, paid tribute to the life and work of J. S. Woodsworth, national C.C.F. leader until his death a week ago.

The principal address was given by J. M. Thomas, a personal friend of Mr. Woodsworth years ago on the Prairies. He reviewed Mr. Woodsworth's life and paid tribute to his work and example.

"Many people said he was an impractical idealist—it is quite true he was a visionary and an idealist," Mr. Thomas said. "But the world needs more of this type of man—men with the courage of their convictions, men who will stand alone in the face of the world's condemnation, because of principle."

COLIN CAMERON, M.P.P.

Another speaker, Colin Cameron, M.P.P. for Comox, said Mr. Woodsworth achieved his position in the eyes of the public by adherence to simple, honest principles.

These principles, Mr. Cameron said, were not new, were not thought up by Mr. Woodsworth, had been given to the world on numerous occasions, but had always been rejected. They were, Mr. Cameron said, "Love Thy Neighbor," "Do Unto Others," and acceptance of the idea, "We Are Our Brothers' Keepers."

Mrs. Kenneth McAllister presided and Mrs. R. M. McIntosh sang two solos: "Harvest," and "In My Father's House."

The collection, which totaled $29, will be sent to the national memorial fund in honor of Mr. Woodsworth.

New Canteen Is Operated By I.O.D.E.

NANAIMO, March 30.—With Brigadier W. C. Colquhoun officiating at the dedicating services, assisted by Mrs. Frank Stead, Vancouver, Provincial president of the order, four chapters of the I.O.D.E. opened a war services canteen here for troops at Camp Nanaimo, on Sunday.

The first of its kind opened by the I.O.D.E. in British Columbia, it is situated in the second story of the Rogers Building on Commercial Street, and has a canteen, writing room, spacious sitting-room and recreation hall. Comfortable furnishings include a piano, which was loaned for the duration.

On Sunday afternoon officers of Camp Nanaimo and representative citizens attended the opening ceremonies. Tea was served, interspersed with selections by the Canadian Legion Orchestra and vocal solos by Mrs. N. Wilfred and Douglas Kirkbride. In the evening soldiers from the camp enjoyed the hospitality of the chapters.

COMMITTEE

Mrs. W. G. Colquhoun is honorary president of the Services' Committee; Mrs. C. H. Barker, president; Mrs. C. L. Monroe, vice-president; Mrs. L. Malpass, second vice-president; Mrs. G. Dorman, treasurer; Miss Kathleen Bryant, corresponding secretary, and Miss Dare Nixon, recording secretary. Mrs. Maxwell Blunt, chairman of the canteen committee, is assisted by Mrs. J. W. Wagstaff, Mrs. V. Palmer, Mrs. J. Cowie, Mrs. Walter Fraser, Miss Gloria Clusola, Miss Ruby Partington and Miss Fanny Saunders. Mrs. C. L. Monroe has charge of the writing room, and Mrs. Kirkbride is head of the entertainment committee.

ONE MAN KILLED IN BLAST IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, March 30 (CP).—One man was killed and two girl workers were injured when an explosion caused about $5,000 damage in the Cherrier munitions plant near here today.

The blast occurred in the detonator drying line of the factory, and an investigation is under way into its cause.

WOULD BE PLEASED TO WELCOME WILLKIE

MELBOURNE, March 30 (CP).—Prime Minister Curtin said today that "the Commonwealth Government would be gratified" if Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican candidate, who visited Britain last year, could come to Australia. Informed that talk of such a visit had been revived, Mr. Curtin said his Government had issued no formal invitation, but would be glad to welcome Mr. Willkie.

Gasoline Allowances For U.S. Tourists in Dominion Announced

Two-Day Visitors Allowed Twenty Gallons and Motorists on Six-Month Stay May Have 100 Gallons for Ninety Days

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP).—United States tourists remaining in Canada forty-eight hours or less will be allowed twenty gallons of gasoline under provisional arrangements of the gasoline rationing system, which becomes operative on Wednesday, Munitions Minister Howe announced tonight.

American tourists crossing the border for a six-month stay will be allowed 100 gallons. After ninety days, however, the tourist may apply for a ration book placing him in the same category as a Canadian driving a non-essential automobile.

When a United States tourist applies for a temporary customs permit, which allows him to remain in Canada for forty-eight hours or less, the customs officer will hand him a coupon book entitling him to four units, or an initial equivalent of twenty gallons of gasoline, Mr. Howe said in a statement.

He estimated that approximately 65 per cent of the American tourists visiting Canada will enter under these temporary permits.

"If the tourist enters under customs form E-50, which permits him to remain in Canada for six months, he will be given at the border a ration coupon book entitling him to twenty units, which, at the outset of the plan, will represent 100 gallons," Mr. Howe said.

FOR FIRST NINETY DAYS

The statement quoted Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle as saying the 100-gallon allowance would be all the tourist would be able to buy in the first ninety days of his stay.

"If he exhausts the allowance before the ninety days are up he will not be able to buy more," Mr. Cottrelle said. "If, however, after ninety days, he wishes to remain in Canada, he must apply for a category 'A' gasoline ration book for use after his 100-gallon allowance has been exhausted."

This ration book would place the tourist in the same category as a Canadian motorist driving a non-essential automobile and he would thus be entitled to from sixty to seventy-six units a year, depending on the size and horsepower of his car. Each unit represents five gallons of gasoline.

Tonight's announcement indicated that changes may be necessary in the rationing plan. Mr. Cottrelle said "it cannot be repeated too often" that the amount of gasoline represented by each unit may be changed "from time to time."

AMOUNT NOT GUARANTEED

"There is no guarantee that it will remain at the initial five gallons," he said, adding that the Canadian tourist trade may be affected by tire and gasoline rationing in the United States, and "by any other factors which may arise in that country as a result of the war."

Interpreting the new regulations, Munitions and Supply Department spokesmen said all tourists entering Canada under the six-month entry form will be entitled to twenty units, even if they only intend to stay for two weeks.

One official warned, however, that this did not definitely signify a "real break" for vacationists who might be staying in Canada only a short time or Americans with Summer homes in the Dominion who would not necessarily be staying as long as ninety days. He emphasized that present arrangements are temporary and may be subject to change.

CHARGE USE OF GAS

The Chinese High Command charged in a communique issued at Chungking that the Japanese used poison gas in their attack against Toungoo. The Chinese were not taken by surprise, the communique said.

"Fighting around Toungoo is only a struggle for outposts," the Chinese command declared. "The decisive battle will be fought to the north."

Chinese troops were said to have recaptured five villages in operations southwest of Yedashe, just north of Toungoo and Kyungon on the Mandalay Road.

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP).—Three men were reported killed on active service and two missing after air operations, all overseas, in the Royal Canadian Air Force's 225th casualty list of the war today. Following is the latest list of casualties with next of kin:

Overseas—Killed on active service, P.O. Dalton Eastman Vipond, Cornwall, Ont.; Sergeant Robert Joseph O'Leary, Ottawa; Sergeant Henri Phalempin, R.R. No. 6, North Edmonton, Alta.

Missing After Air Operations—Sergeant James Robert Dow, St. Stephen, N.B.; Sergeant Andrew Lennox, Innisfail, Alta.

GAIN SUPERIORITY IN TWO DISTRICTS

recapitulating the first phase of the Australian campaign, dispatches from Port Moresby, in New Guinea, disclosed that the enemy's only overland thrust of consequence had been driven back to its starting point by the elements.

This was in the Markham Valley of New Guinea. There, Japanese troops who had advanced twenty-seven miles in a slow and painful march from the East New Guinea coast, had been compelled to give up every mile by great floods in the valley.

Now, it was added, the enemy was again centred about Lae, Salamaua and Finschhafen—the towns from which he had begun his incursion.

Today's action was light. Darwin, on the Northern Australian Mainland, and Port Moresby, on the southern tip of New Guinea, were again attacked by air. The details of these raids were not immediately made known.

President Manuel Quezon, of the Philippines, reached Melbourne today. His arrival in Australia was announced last Friday.

He appeared tired, but his face was wreathed in smiles when General Douglas MacArthur, United Nations commander in the Southwest Pacific, strode forward at the railroad station to greet his friend of many years.

General MacArthur has met General Sir Thomas Blamey, commander of Australia's land troops, and they are believed to have discussed the main outlines of the defence problems along with other high Australian and United States officers.

It was reported the discussions this week would include complete reorganization of the various commands in Australia under General Blamey, who will command American as well as Australian land forces.

Among the changes expected to be announced is the removal of the power to formulate strategy from the present members of the military board, which will cease to operate as such. Members of the board will become departmental heads under General Blamey, each responsible for definite duties associated with equipping armies and placing them in the field.

The senior military officer will be sent to Washington to represent Australia on the Allied chiefs of staff committee.

The plans also envision promotion for many younger Australian air officers who have won distinction overseas.

MASTER MARINER PASSES TO REST

Captain Frank Wilson, aged eighty years, 3809 Dewdney Avenue, retired master mariner, died in the city yesterday. He was born in London, England, and had been a resident of Victoria for the past forty-five years.

He is survived by a twin sister, Mrs. Alice Robinson, in England; a nephew in the British Navy, and also several nieces and nephews in England.

The remains are resting at McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Had Resided Here Over Fifty Years

At her residence, 1109½ Kings Road, the death occurred yesterday of Mrs. Florence Maud Wilson, aged sixty-eight years. Mrs. Wilson was born in Sussex, England, and had been a resident of this city for the past fifty-three years.

She is survived by her widower, George Edward, Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. Edith McNeal, at home, and Mrs. Ethel Ellen Markle, Juneau, Alaska, and one son, Walter Edward, at Skagway, Alaska.

The remains are resting at McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel, where funeral services will be conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Major A. McInnes, assisted by Pastor E. W. Robinson, will conduct the services. Interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

Learns Husband Safe in Hongkong

SALT SPRING ISLAND, March 30.—A cable was received last week by Mrs. Hart-Davis, stating that her husband, John Hart-Davis, is safe and well in a Hongkong civilian prison camp.

Mr. Hart-Davis has been a branch engineer of the General Electric at Hongkong for nearly seven years. Since last November no news has been heard of him by his wife and little daughter, who left Hongkong some time ago, and have been residents of Ganges for the last seven months.

Two things you'll like about Canterbury ... traditional flavor and low price

Because she had "a sinking feeling" at five o'clock, Anna, the clever wife of the seventh Duke of Bedford, ordered cakes and tea served regularly each day. Thus, in the 17th century, started the custom of afternoon tea, still popular.

Still in the best tradition when you serve Canterbury. For then you get the same lusty richness, the same loyal quality made famous by old-world blends. Notice the keen fresh flavor of Canterbury's choice leaves, and how well the inner-lined rigid carton protects it.

And remember, too! Canterbury saves you money ... several cents a pound ... because your grocer orders direct from the importer. We cordially invite you to try this fine tea on a money-back guarantee. This way you can't lose!

PACIFIC COAST DEFENCES

Under conditions of modern warfare no country is safe from invasion unless it can bring to bear greater naval strength than the enemy, and such strength must be supported by adequate air power. There must be, too, such stoutly defended air bases that these cannot be destroyed by the enemy or seized by parachute troops. In other words, airfields, as well as having ground troops for their defence, should be ringed with anti-aircraft guns, and equipped as well with all the necessary artillery to repel ground attacks.

The primary essential for coastal defence is enough warships of all kinds to meet and destroy an enemy before he reaches his objective. Until, for instance, that condition is met, until, in co-operation with it, there is the full measure of aerial support, no one can say that British Columbia is safe from invasion, despite the fact that an enemy would have to traverse thousands of miles of ocean to make the attempt. Therefore, all considerations of what should be done for the defence of Canada on its Pacific front must be based, in the first instance, on the naval power which can be assembled for that purpose, and on the co-operating aerial strength.

It is claimed by many that the people of this Province, and more so still the people of Canada as a whole, do not take their position seriously enough. That, possibly, is true; but there is another aspect to the situation, so far as the defences of the Pacific Coast are concerned. Does the Government regard the possibility of invasion as menacing? It has made some preparations. It is not desirable to mention the extent of those beyond saying that there have been increases in the numbers of bombing and fighting aircraft located at the various airfields, additions to the land forces and a certain strengthening of anti-aircraft defences. On the other hand it may be doubted if the Government has appraised, in the light of the experience of the war in the Pacific, what is needed in the matter of naval power on this coastline. That is the purpose on which most of the concentration of the immediate future should be directed. That is far and away the most important aspect of preserving the inviolability of these shores of Canada.

There is another aspect of this matter of defence that will bear some investigation. It is apparent that, despite what the situation is, the headquarters work of the three Services on this Coast is being operated on the five-and-a-half-day week. In other words, the offices of the headquarters staffs are closed for one and a half days each week. That is hardly the spirit of energy that should be displayed if there is any danger that threatens. Moreover, it may well be asked, if there is in any sense the week-end holidaying principle, extending throughout the Services, and in what degree? On this coastline this is the time for the most intensified training in all modern defensive tactics, training such as has been and continues to be undertaken throughout Great Britain. The example to achieve this purpose should be set in all ranks of the three Services, from the highest to the lowest.

Even the casual observer coming to this coastline has commented over and over again about the complacency that prevails, and that criticism has been directed not only against the civilian population but against the armed forces as well. It is not a pleasant task to draw attention to this but it becomes a duty, the more especially at a time when the Minister of National Defence and the Minister for Air are on a visit to this part of the Dominion for the purpose of studying what is being done for the defence of this Coast. Whatever laxity there is, whatever complacency prevails, may be traced to Ottawa, where authority is so much centralized. It is to Ottawa, in every likelihood, that the people of this Province must look for redress, for an accentuation if not a re-shaping of the defence measures being employed in this area of Canada and for greater emphasis being placed on intensified training and a more sustained spirit of alertness inculcated in those upon whom the task of defence will fall.

Meanwhile it cannot be impressed too strongly on the authorities that the first line of defence is naval power. Without that, and its complement of adequate aerial strength, enemy landings could not be prevented on such a coastline as that of British Columbia. The measure of preparedness, too, that prevails here must be based on a seven-day working week, not, as in the case of Pearl Harbor, an idle week-end, with its disastrous results.

INDIA'S PROBLEM

There is, unfortunately, nothing so far to suggest that Sir Stafford Cripps' mission to India will prove a success. The various and dissident elements in that country have been offered post-war Dominion status, provided they can reach an agreement and compose their differences. Yesterday the British envoy explained what was proposed, what, indeed, has been a matter of common knowledge for some time past. The reaction to this, from M. Ghandi and other Indian leaders, is awaited. It may be they will claim self-government now, on the eve of invasion by the Japanese, a condition which could well give rise to grave consequences.

The difficulties of reconciling the various parties in India, even in the face of imminent danger, is recognized. Professor Harold J. Laski says the simple formula of majority rule is not applicable, for one reason, among others, that 70,000,000 Moslems will not accept the power of a Hindu Raj to determine their future. Moreover, the British Government has always insisted that in whatever measure of self-government is given to India the rights of the Anglo-Indian population must be safeguarded. There are, too, the rights of the Indian Princes and the populations they control. The task being attempted by Sir Stafford Cripps, as Professor Laski says, is to persuade the different Indian communities to discover terms upon which a unified India "can grow into a habit of mutual trust." He has, says Mr. Laski, "to make a provisional accommodation out of which the will to a final settlement based on the inescapable unity of India emerges from the minds and hearts of the Indians themselves."

The differences are so great in India, the antagonisms, especialy between Hindu and Moslem, so deep-seated that even all the good will of the rest of the British Empire that clothes the mission of Sir Stafford Cripps may well prove unavailing. Failure will unquestionably hamper the British in defending India, and yet they must face the possibility of this if the latest proposals put forward for self-government are not accepted. Sir Stafford has brought courage and patience to bear on his task, but more than half of the fortnight he intends to remain in India has passed by and a settlement of the perplexed question is still to be reached. The thoughts of politicians in the immemorial East, save in Japan, show no desire of hurry towards any appointed end. Perhaps in India it is only the threat of conquest that will compose the differences which have been so steadily fomented during the past three or four decades.

THE GOVERNMENT'S PLEBISCITE

The prolonged Easter recess of Parliament was ordered so that politicians should return to their constituencies and arouse interest in the forthcoming plebiscite designed to relieve the Government of its pledges against all out war effort. So far, there is little if any indication of this purpose being fulfilled, save in Quebec, where the emphasis is being placed on the giving of a negative answer at the polls. It seems time to remind the politicians of what is expected. If, representing as they do the people in Parliament, they do not show enthusiasm for all out war effort, the result will be continued complacency on the part of the voters, and, even now, it does not seem as if there will be a really substantial percentage of those qualified to vote who will go to the polls.

There is no intimation from Ottawa of any itinerary of the Ministers themselves designed to arouse the people to take an interest in the forthcoming plebiscite. Three of those Ministers are on the Pacific Coast, but only on a tour of inspection. The Prime Minister himself has not made his plans public, has yet to show that leadership which would result in an overwhelmingly affirmative answer being given to the plebiscite. The vote is to be taken on April 27 so that less than four weeks remain for political guidance from all parties as to how it should be answered. Unless steps are taken towards this end the parliamentary recess will be no more than a prolonged holiday and the people will be left uninformed. That may well mean that many will absent themselves from the polls.

ON OBSERVING SOME NAMES OF LITTLE NOTE

Oh fond attempt to give a deathless lot,
To names ignoble, born to be forgot!
In vain recorded in historic page,
They court the notice of a future age.
Those twinkling tiny lustres of the land
Drop one by one from fame's neglecting hand,
Lethean gulfs receive them as they fall,
And dark oblivion soon absorbs them all.
So when a child, as playful children use,
Has burnt to tinder a stale last year's news,
The flame extinct, he views the roving fire,
There goes my lady, and there goes the squire;
There goes the parson, oh! illustrious spark,
And there scarce less illustrious, goes the clerk.

—William Cowper.

MARINERS

Always some chart shall lead such mariners
Back to the blue, bright waters, in their eyes
The sun is laughing and the spindrift whirs
Against their dreams, the long tides fall and rise.
The sky is a vast lexicon and on
Its azure pages they read as we read
A book; their courses, and their maps are drawn
Upon the stars, by which their proud ships speed.

The music that is burning in them is
The music of the spheres and what they hear
Is that first sea that broke in Genesis
Against the vast shores of a hemisphere.
Reeling in sudden light when once God's word
Spoke out of darkness and the waters stirred.

—Harold Vinal, in The New York Times.

FRAGMENT

And that I have said and done.
Now that I am old and ill,
Turns into a question till
I lie awake night after night
And never get the answer right.
Did that play of mine send out
Certain men the English shot?
Did words of mine put too great strain
On that woman's reeling brain?
Could my spoken words have checked
That whereby a house lay wrecked?
And all seems evil until I
Sleepless would lie down and die.

—W. B. Yeats.

THE CALL

I have heard Churchill. Like a voice unknown,
Save in some dream of ultimate demand
For all that fires the soul swift to disown,
The chaff of life, and put the halting hand
Once more to freedom's plow, the call has come;
Challenging me, far off, and you and you,
To heed the rumble of the despot's drum,
And save the world their legions would undo.
I would he had been near to see our tears;
To feel the quickened beating of our heart,
Outfooting selfish moods and petted fears;
To know how many millions, though apart
From where he westward faced in London night,
Waved back assurance that the land is bright!

—Leigh Mitchell Hodges, in The New York Times.

THE GUIDING HAND

(Suggested by the illustration used by The King in a world-wide broadcast.)

"I said to the man at the gate of the years,
Give me a light to guide me,
For the night is dark and filled with fears
And I know not what may betide me.

"The keeper made answer, 'The night is chill;
The storm clouds are gathering fast;
There's a lonely moor and a rocky hill
And a raging stream to be passed.

"'The robbers and thieves lie in wait all night
By the path that must be trod.
My counsel to you is more than a light,
Put your hand in the hand of God.'

"With my hand held fast in His Infinite Hand
We walked all that fearsome night.
And I reached my home in the Promised Land
As the sun burst forth with its light."

—Pliny A. Wiley, in Advance.

STEADFAST ENDURANCE

I am not an expert in the modes, I said; but leave me one which will fittingly represent the tones and accents of a brave man in warlike action or in any hard and dangerous task, who in the hour of defeat or when facing wounds and death, will meet every blow of fortune with steadfast endurance.—Plato: "Republic" (Cornford's version).

I pray God that . . . the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack may one day float together to cleanse this world of tyranny!

—Confession of the American novelist Winston Churchill's "Richard Carvel" (1899).

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

"I see where they're fightin' now at Zamboanga!"

I had no need to look up; the voice was Macool's.

"That's where the monkeys have no . . ."

"Yes, Shamus, I know," I told him hurriedly.

"Oh, ye saw the fillum, did ye?"

There was a hurt note in Shamus' voice. I could see that I had robbed him of a story. I kicked myself, and resolved to know less in future. But it was all right, the blue eyes were mapping again. The Irish have a smile that blooms slowly, but when it does it takes all. It is like the first burst of sunshine after a storm, radiant, effulgent, all-embracing. Down deep in Shamus the chuckles had started, nudging each other and rising, as in a percolator. Presently they reached the top.

"I've thrown out all av me geography books," Shamus continued. "They were no use at all, at all. I began to suspict thim when they couldn't find Pskov and Porkhov for me. Wan av thim had it Lwow, and another Lvov. It was the same thing with Dnieper-Whatels. They spelled that wan Dnieperpetrovsk an' Dnieperopetrovsk, an' ivery other way. The encyclo—the dictionary spelled it Dnepropetrovsk, but said it should have been called Ekaterinoslav. But it didn't make any diff'rence. The Germans took it, and the Rooslans will take it back wan of these days. Tough fellas, the Rooslans. They have to be to spell like that.

"So I threw out me geo-graphy books an' bought a globe. You can sit in your chair, bhoy, an' go 'round the world in a jiffy with a globe. All ye have to do is give a bit av a push, and there's Zamboanga, where the monkeys have no—but ye saw the fillum. It's true that they spelled it Sambohanga, but what's the diff'rence? The globe shows where it is, or leastways where it was, for it may be gone by now. That's the trouble with this war, bhoy; there won't none av thim stay in the same place for a minut. It's like a game av musical chairs without the music.

"Well, it wasn't like that last time. The outfit I was with wint in an' out of Ypres siven times in two years. They almost nabbed me for the eighth time, but me lave came first. Why, we know the names av aven the cows and horses on the farms. At Arras wan poor fella got walled up in a trench—the Germans used to do that with their dead, but this time they were in a hurry an' left an arm sticking out. The whole reg'mint shook hands with him maybe a dozen times before the sanitary detail got around to that place. But thin we missed him. It was like a land mark had been moved.

"That's what is the matter with this war, bhoy. There are no landmarks. It's Pskov today and Porkhov tomorrow and Zamboanga a coupla of months after. Ye find Zamboanga, and off they all go agin somewhere else. But I have it licked now with me globe. I can spin the whole worruld in a jiffy. An' it looks prettiest that way, to tell ye the honest truth. Sometimes I think that is why the powers set it spinning. They jist couldn't be bothered with geo-graphy, bhoy," declared Shamus, rising.

The percolator started again as Shamus went down the hall. I heard the chuckles give way to a hum. Presently the words of a song came back from the bottom landing. Yes, it was that dratted thing from the film: "The monkeys have no tails in Zamboanga."

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tides periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of March 31, 1892)

The Warspite Menagerie—The crew of the Warspite made an addition to their pets when in Coquimbo on their last visit to that port in the shape of a healthy and ambitious Billy goat. They have now two of the animals on board, and on Sunday afternoon they were introduced to the purlieus of Victoria, being escorted through the city by a squad of bluejackets. After making a hearty repast of sardine cans, posters and other unconsidered trifles that hang around the streets, they reluctantly consented to be led back to Esquimalt.

Street Brawl—Campbell's corner was the scene of a big row, last night, after the eleventh hour. It only took two to start it, but it was not long before the contestants numbered half a dozen. A police officer appeared on the scene, and the fighters disappeared.

A Close Race—Two competitors for the Ananias Stakes entered their names at The Colonist office yesterday. They returned from a fishing excursion to Sooke Lake, and reported their catch at 432 trout, weighing 178 pounds, captured in three hours. Their entry has been received, and provided the weigh in all right, the Scriptural gentleman will have to look to his laurels.

SUPERANNUATED NOT GETTING ANY BONUS

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP). — Renewed applications on behalf of some 6,000 superannuated civil servants for the cost-of-living bonus have been definitely rejected by the Government, it was learned today.

For several months there have been repeated requests to the Government for a bonus for pensioned former Government employees, but without success.

Recent representations by the Dominion Association of Superannuated Civil Servants resulted in the definite decision by the Government that no bonuses would be paid.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

Roley and Katie sat in the famous old "End House" at Esquimalt gazing at the placid harbor and recalling happy moments that would be no more when the building was demolished to make way for naval expansion. Katie spotted four ducks deftly diving for fish. "Birds must be a fascinating study. What do they call it?" she asked. "Oh, that is natural history," Roley replied. "Are you sure it is not natural geography?" Katie inquired. "Apparently you two never heard of ornithology," a man at an adjacent table snickered. . . . Many Government announcements contain a joker, and the recent announcement of free war risk insurance up to $3,000 is no exception. Paragraph 3 states: "Indemnity compensation payments except in cases of undue hardship or war need will be postponed until after the war." . . . Fire wardens are considering a salt water pump to fill fire hydrant mains in the event of any interruption in the fresh water supply. We suggest they install the pump in a bomb proof dugout with a gasoline or steam engine auxiliary to serve in case of failure of the supply of electricity. . . . "Schnozzle," one of the senior city constables, informed us city police with private automobiles receive only the small "Category A" gasoline allowance whereas members of the Provincial Police with their own machines all obtain a much more generous "Category B" supply of coupons. Class distinction again? . . . The state forester at Olympia, Wash., recently informed newspapers: "No matter how or by whom a fire is set in Washington woods this year it will be considered an Axis fire of direct aid and comfort to the enemy. Persons responsible for such fires, whether or not intentional, will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of our laws, which have sharper teeth than most might believe."

SPRING CLEANING

Gay Lady March relentlessly with blustering and with blowing,
Has made a merry month of it
Spring-cleaning night and day,
And not a speck of useless dust, at least not of her knowing,
But has been boldly put to rout or briskly swept away.

Wind-scattered are the old dead leaves that clung since bleak
November
Grown weary of his heavy task, exhausted fell asleep.
The promise of the opening buds
March bids the world remember,
As eagerly she half reveals their hidden secrets deep.

Now is she shedding tears of grief
because her day is ended?
For March goes out at midnight
on the perfume-laden air,
The Silver Birch, a softly green and misty veil is lending,
To bind about the splendor of her wildly flying hair.

The last few lingering moments still she will not waste a-weeping.
She's washing all the waking world with cleansing Springtime rain,
Because, oh, whisper gently now of lovely trysts a-keeping,
Sweet green clad April smilingly is coming home again.

REV. C. J. LOAT TO BE LADYSMITH RECTOR

GUELPH, Ont., March 30 (CP). — Appointment of Rev. Chris J. Loat, curate of St. George's Anglican Church, Guelph, to become rector of the Anglican Church at Ladysmith, B.C., was announced here today.

Mr. Loat graduated from the University of British Columbia in 1935 and from the Anglican Theological College of British Columbia in 1937. He was ordained to the diaconate in the Spring of 1937 and went to St. Mark's Church, Vancouver, as assistant curate. In 1938 he was ordained priest in Vancouver.

ON THE RECORD

—By DOROTHY THOMPSON

ANNIVERSARY

A year ago, the Yugoslav people, [illegible] legions of the Nazis and the Fascists, rose, overthrew an appeasement Government, and joined the free world.

On the surface it was an act of purest quixotry. The Yugoslavs did not have a chance. Why, then, did they choose again to spill rivers of blood? The question is terribly important, for people do not see their fields laid waste, their homes destroyed, their sons slaughtered, for a hopeless cause.

The answer is that the Yugoslavs, neither then nor now, believed that they would lose. Yugoslavia might lose. But not the cause with which they allied themselves.

Recall the circumstances: Poland had fallen; France had fallen; everything attacked had fallen or was falling except Britain. The question was whether the Yugoslavs would allow their country to be used as a base of operations against Greece. Their neighbors, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria, had bowed before the Germans. Turkey was neutral. Russia was not in the war. The United States was far away and her position questionable.

What then did the people of Yugoslavia see before them? They saw defeat. Why then did they fight? Because they also saw resurrection.

SPONTANEOUS UPRISING

The uprising of the people was spontaneous, but it was not without leadership. Where in the people was the leadership? For one thing, among the priests—of the Orthodox Church, in Serbia a pure church and close to the masses of the people and the army, the Catholic priests in Slovenia, and some in Croatia. The church is always cautious. But the religious heart has the deepest wisdom. It knows that death is a part of life, and that the full man "so lives that he can die any moment." Therefore, the choice of the Yugoslav was not whether he would die, but what would live. And what did he believe would live? He believed nationhood, and personal and political freedom and the idea of equality would live. He was not impressed by the Fascist-Nazi legions. He believed they had no future.

Without allies Yugoslavia knew she had allies. For these primitive peasants—as they seem to Western Europeans—were closer to the spirit of the times than the rolling hordes that threatened them. Their sons had gone to America, into coal mines and steel mills, lumber camps and harvest fields, and brought back a picture of a great dynamic country pledged to freedom and seeking to build a new equality. So although we were not in the war, they believed in America, and joined us before we joined them.

They believed in Russia. Russian politics concerned them not at all. But they believed in a dynamic emanating from Russia, impelled by faith in the future of the common man. So they joined Russia before she joined them.

BELIEVE IN THEMSELVES

Are these Yugoslav peasants "primitive?" Is it "primitive" not to be impressed by smooth machines, technical progress, consummate skill—if they are all devoted to a senseless cause? Is it "primitive" to go straight to the heart of reality, with the "sense they were born with?" They believed in themselves and in another dynamic than that of the Fascists. They believed that with whatever setbacks, nations of people are striving for full nationhood, and persons are striving for full manhood, and that peace can only come in a world of full nations and full men. Is that "primitive?"

These people, close to the soil and to reality, had a prescience of events of which there was as yet no sign. At that time there was little unrest in France, and the conquered small countries. They lay shocked and supine. Who could tell then that another Polish army would soon stand on Russian soil? Who could tell then that Russia would soon be smuggling arms to Poles, and that there would be guerrilla warfare and sabotage over enormous areas of Europe?

The answer is: They could tell. They knew it. They might have answered Hitler in his own words: "If a people but desire freedom, weapons will grow in their hands."

They and every other country had been offered by the Nazis slices of their neighbors' land, if they would but bow down and worship Hitler. But the South Slavs knew that that, too, is not the dynamism of our times.

BRINGS OWN REVENGE

And how right they were! A horsetrading in peoples brings its own revenge. Poland and Hungary shared in the looting of Czecho-Slovakia, only to become victims themselves. Then Rumania was split up, and the long disputed Transylvania promised to Hungary. But the Rumanians delivered more troops to the Nazis than the Hungarians—so now they are demanding Transylvania back—and threatening to fight each other.

Was it "primitive" that the South Slav peasants were not taking any of this sort of thing?

The least primitive statesman of Southeastern Europe, Count Teleki, Prime Minister of Hungary, told me in the Spring of 1940: I am a Transylvanian and a Hungarian. But I would rather wait two generations for the return of Transylvania than get it from the Nazis as the price of betraying Yugoslavia. And he killed himself rather than make that deal.

To the Yugoslav guerrillas, fighting in the mountains, this testament from America's great writer, Thomas Wolfe, who above us all understood the dynamics of these times:

"To lose the earth you know, for greater knowing; to lose the life you have for greater life; to find a land . . . more large than earth—toward which the conscience of the world is tending—a wind is rising, and the rivers flow."

LIBERTY OF SPEECH

Sir, — The people of British Columbia owe a debt of gratitude to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor for his candid warning to them given before the New Westminster Board of Trade on Friday last, when he stated that the Canadian people will not be immune from the actual horrors of war, and that a great number of people all through Canada are being deluded with platitudes and given a false sense of security, pointing out that it was false propaganda that ruined France, for had the French people been told the truth there might have been a different story today in France.

His Honor's remarks are of particular importance at the present time when action has been taken by the Minister of Justice against a responsible daily newspaper. The Vancouver Sun, for printing a number of exceedingly able articles and editorials in an endeavor to awaken the people to the urgent need for immediate improvement in defence methods.

In publishing these articles The Vancouver Sun has followed a course of courage and responsibility, in strict accord with the highest dictates of public duty, and its action has already resulted in certain changes being made in the system of command in this area, etc. It is therefore exceedingly disquieting to see that there is an attempt being made to muzzle the free utterances of the press and silence all constructive criticism. This is a matter of the gravest concern to all Canadians. If the Government is successful in its attempt the position of Canada is comparable only to that of France before her fall, and this country can look forward to no other future than that of becoming "occupied territory."

EVACUATION

Sir,—I asked today at Oak Bay Municipal Hall if any arrangements had been made to evacuate women and children from the Island in case of a raid, and was told that the municipality did not know of any. We have been warned that a raid is imminent, therefore some provision should be made for evacuation. This must be done by some authority; individual effort would be futile. Our municipal councils should make the moves in consultation with transportation people. They ought to do this at once and not wait for the next regular meeting of the council. We have been told that we are complacent. Ask the women and see how complacent they are with regard to their children. There have been suggestions that civilians be armed. This would be dangerous and useless. Unorganized effort is only confusing.

THAT PLEBISCITE

Sir,—May I, through your kindness, be allowed to thank Major-General E. A. Walker for his supporting letter, which so clearly helped to expose the profligacy with which Mr. King's Government is wasting the people's money.

He also is quite right when he says we "could" have leadership, unity and co-operation. Yes! We could, if Mr. Mackenzie King would resign and make way for broad-minded men of vision. But one has had clear evidence that that is not the intention of the present "party" Government.

The most outstanding instance was its support of the C.C.F. candidate against Mr. Meighen at the recent election, which could have brought Mr. Meighen into the House, and he would have represented the thousands of people who are not, and never have been, satisfied with the "dallying" methods of Mr. King's regime.

This tragic game of politics will not cease until the Canadian people have a truly representative government. That is what they definitely have not yet got.

On February 25 and March 3, Mr. King definitely stated that conscription is "not" the issue of the plebiscite. The reading of the latter is to be: "Are you in favor of releasing the Government from any obligation arising out of any past commitment restricting the methods of raising men for military service?" The question is of a very ambiguous nature, and were one to attempt to parse it one would naturally note "any obligations 'arising' out of" and designate it to a "future" tense. Therefore, Mr. King's party is not asking the people to help them to rectify a past mistake but are suggesting that the people condone the consequences of that mistake, and are placing the plebiscite on record as merely begging the issue.

Whatever crafty political machinations there may be behind the plebiscite, they may well prove disastrous to the people as a whole. The people's minds are as confused as Omar Khayyam's was when he wrote:

Myself when young did eagerly frequent
Doctor and Saint, and heard great argument
About it and about, but ever more
Came out by the same door as in I went.

The reason why the plebiscite should be boycotted is obvious. There is the stark and crying need in Canada for a National Government, which would be truly representative of democracy, which is what the United Nations are fighting for and holding back the enemy while Mr. King and his party take time off to play a game of plebiscite. Were it peacetime, the incongruity of asking people to save gasoline and then asking them to drive miles to take part in the game would be very laughable. Yes! It is indeed time for Canada to have a National Government, before it is too late.

ENEMY ALIENS

Sir,—I read the letter of W. J. Roberts in your Letters to the Editor column of March 26. I heartily agree that some action should be taken at once to remove all enemy aliens from the Coast. The Italians are excellent foot runners, so the cost of making them run east of the Rockies would be very light, but before we fire the starting gun we must take away all hidden knives, as they would stab us in the back at the first chance.

We have Germans and Italians working in national defence work of all kinds. Why not move all aliens out of British Columbia at once.

St. Nazaire Exploit Made Heroes of Men; Newsman Tells Story

Eyewitness Gives Graphic Account of Destruction and Bravery of Officers and Ranks in Daring Thrust at Enemy Naval Base

LONDON, March 30 (CP).—The doughty old American destroyer which joined the British Navy and found death and glory at St. Nazaire went to her self-appointed end defiantly, her guns blazing.

In glowing words, the epitaph of H.M.S. Campbeltown, formerly the U.S.S. Buchanan, was written today, by an Exchange Telegraph correspondent who accompanied the Commando raid early Saturday, on the Nazi-held French naval base.

A four-stacker of 1919 vintage, the Campbeltown steamed into St. Nazaire "with the utmost inevitability," Correspondent Gordon Holman wrote.

"She defied German submarines, mines and concentrated fire from shore batteries until she crashed through boom defences and charged the dock entrance," he added.

"Naval personnel showed the highest courage and continued to fire the ex-American destroyer's guns even after her bows were ablaze.

"Only when the flames spread did they run from the decks straight on to adjacent landing stages which were swept by Nazi fire . . .

"Still so thoroughly American in her lines, although she flew the white ensign, she found at her end a place in history alongside the Vindictive and blockship of Zeebrugge fame."

He related that most of the Commandos who drove home the audacious attack "fought on until they either were casualties or were prisoner, but they completed one of the finest aggressive operations of the war."

STRONG OPPOSITION

Holman said the Commandos encountered strong opposition as they "systematically wrecked harbor installations, lock gates and power houses, but overcame it with the utmost determination.

British naval forces approached St. Nazaire while the R.A.F. was bombing the harbor, he related.

"German flak rose in the sky in staccato bursts as we entered the estuary of the river," he went on. "Tracer shells went up on either side of us, forming a strange gothic archway of fire.

"Suddenly two powerful searchlights swept the water, picking up the leading ships. The Germans fired a burst of flak, then came another and a more continuous burst which the Campbeltown answered.

PATTERNS OF FIRE

"In a second the whole river was covered with a fantastic crisscross pattern of fire, and the roar of battle was so loud our gun crews couldn't hear orders from bridges of motor launches . . .

"The Campbeltown continued on her way under constant fire from both sides of the river and a motor gunboat blazed her way past the last barrier before the entrance to the drydock.

"The Campbeltown finished her last journey magnificently by shooting up a German flak ship which she left in flames before speeding [illegible] charge into the dock gates.

"She piled herself up on them with the sureness of a ferret diving into a hole."

ROAR OF EXPLOSIONS

Soon the roar of big explosions ashore was heard, indicating that the Commandos had begun their demolitions, and a launch which carried Holman landed Lt.-Col. A. C. Newman, commanding the military forces.

The launch lay beside the jetty as survivors of the Campbeltown scrambled abroad. Then she headed out into the channel and immediately came under fire of German shore batteries which swept the ship with rapid fire at less than twenty yards.

"Gunners of the launch returned the fire and one made a direct hit on a Nazi pillbox," Holman said.

GUNNERS' LAST SHOT

"The captain shouted well shot, do it again, but the gunner had fired his last shot. He was killed.

"The glare of fires from both British and German vessels burning, made light nearly as strong as the searchlights as a burst of firing in the inner submarine basin indicated the Commandos had obtained yet another position and were raking U-boat moorings with mortars and Brens . . .

"The commander of the launch twice tried to bring it alongside the mole, but the German firepower was intense and we were driven off. The launch, however, was the last of the flotilla which left the harbor.

"Only a hard turn to port prevented our colliding with a flak ship which opened fire at twenty yards' range.

DESTROY OWN SHIP

"With the last of our shells we silenced her and then as we escaped we saw her destroyed by the concentrated fire of her own shore batteries, who apparently believed she was one of our craft lying disabled in the stream."

"A tragic moment came," Holman said, "when it was realized some commando and special service troops ashore could not be evacuated."

He added that Colonel Newman, a London builder before the war, knew this, "but not for one minute did he hesitate to go ashore and take his headquarters staff with him."

The scheme of attack on shore provided that all men do a particular job and, the correspondent wrote, "it was inevitable that the non-arrival of even a few commando troops was a serious handicap."

But he said these difficulties were overcome by "a series of thunderous explosions still going on when the last British naval forces withdrew."

He said one of the "biggest bangs" came from a blast which destroyed the dock powerhouse and another which "almost certainly destroyed the gates of the main basin" as the commandos systematically wrecked the U-boat nest.

"Demolition troops working with a speed which must have amazed the Germans fixed heavy charges of explosives to a bridge, the dock gates and important buildings, and blew them sky high in a matter of minutes," the correspondent related.

COOK TELLS STORY

The Campbeltown's cook gave this account of his experiences as the ship headed for the dock gate:

"I shut down the cooking ranges for the last time and went to my gun position. We were picked up by an enemy searchlight and the fun started.

"We got about a half-dozen salvoes in face of terrific fire and then a shell burst about two feet from our gun. We were finished.

"The engine room crew carried on until after the Campbeltown had crashed into the dock gates, and right up to the end they gave her steam for twenty knots."

One commando corporal got only a slight wound when his rifle was blown in half as he lay on the destroyer's forward deck.

Most of the commandos came from the London area, but there also were Scots and a few Welshmen.

LONDON, March 30 (CP).—Major-General Sir Vernon Bell, sixty-eight, known as one of Britain's greatest spy trackers, died today at Emberton, Buckinghamshire, it was announced today. His organization trapped many German agents in the first Great War.

Air Official to Visit Patricia Bay Unit Today

Air Commodore A. E. Godfrey, deputy inspector-general of the R.C.A.F., Ottawa, will continue his routine inspection here today with a visit to Patricia Bay. Arriving in the city Sunday morning, he inspected [illegible] headquarters yesterday.

The deputy inspector-general is expected to spend tomorrow and Thursday at Patricia Bay and will return there next Monday to inspect the R.A.F. O.T.U. His itinerary next week will take Air Commodore Godfrey to stations along the coast, with Prince Rupert the last place of call before returning to Victoria.

Communist Party Orators Heard

LONDON, March 30 (CP). — Demands that Britain open a second front against Germany, to insure victory this year, rang through Trafalgar Square on Sunday, as 30,000 listened to speaker after speaker cry for action now.

The orators ranged from the Conservative Member of Parliament, David Robertson, to a Chinese seaman, Chao Li-King, in an all-party demonstration organized by the Communist Party.

Roosevelt Sends Message to Men

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN NORTHERN IRELAND, March 30 (AP).—A message from President Roosevelt to every member of the United States Army Expeditionary Force arrived at headquarters today for distribution to the soldiers.

"You will be supported by the whole force and power of this nation," said the President's message on White House stationery. "The victory you win will be the victory of all the people—common to them all."

Sir Sydney Bailey Dies in London

LONDON, March 30 (CP).—Admiral Sir Sydney Bailey, fifty-nine, retired, died in London, Friday, it was announced today. He was accused of negligence after a collision between the battle cruisers Renown and Hood off the Spanish coast in January, 1935, but a court martial acquitted him.

PUT CORRESPONDENTS ON AN EQUAL FOOTING

SYDNEY, Australia, March 30 (CP). —The Government announced today it is providing an additional subsidy of £50,000 ($177,000) annually to enable the Empire press rate of one penny a word to be extended to all messages from Australia to the United States.

Hitherto the rate has been applicable only to messages to the United States dealing exclusively with Australia or Australians. The change will put United States correspondents on an equal footing with those filing messages to Empire points.

RESTRICT DOG RACING

LONDON, March 30 (CP).—A Home Ministry order on Saturday night restricted greyhound racing to Saturdays or public holidays and forbade opening of new tracks for the duration of the war. The move followed a long series of complaints in the press and Parliament that dog racing is interfering with Britain's war effort.

WANT TO FORM DEFENCE CORPS

United Organizations Security Council Approves Committee's Recommendation

By unanimous vote, the United Organizations Security Council last night authorized a committee, under Kenneth McAllister, to proceed with the organization of a central Civilian Defence Corps company of approximately 100 men, willing to train and study the role which will be required of it in the event of an emergency.

Mr. McAllister explained that the organization should be officered locally and its membership limited to those able to carry out duties assigned to them, though no age limits would be set or physical examinations required of intending members.

OUTLINES DUTIES

Mr. McAllister said he felt that those forming the corps should have an exhaustive knowledge of the Greater Victoria area, report any suspicious activities or occurrences to the authorities, and be prepared to assist in repelling any enemy attacks.

The council authorized the committee to negotiate with the Pacific Command so that the Civilian Defence Corps might be given "its proper status in the community."

"A corps of this kind has already been set up in Winnipeg," Secretary Jack Price informed the meeting. "We have the necessity on the Coast and the provision for defence established in the Interior. The cart is before the horse."

"DEMOCRATIC" OFFICERS

Mr. McAllister remarked: "The corps should be officered as democratically as possible. The loggers around Comox have organized themselves, and have proposed the names of their officers, which have been accepted by the Pacific Command."

Chairman Fred Manning reported that the Victoria Parent-Teacher Association has agreed to undertake the fingerprinting and registration of all children in Greater Victoria, the age at which these would stop being left to the discretion of the group.

He said that the Victoria Women's Institute had indicated its willingness to carry on the work of caching food supplies in areas where this is deemed necessary; that the W.A. to the 16th Canadian Scottish would get together all possible information on evacuation plans; that the Lions Club would report upon A.R.P. activities, and that the Women's Canadian Club, in co-operation with Mrs. A. H. Pease, of British Bundles, would handle the matter of providing clothing for those bombed-out in this area.

APPOINT DIRECTORS

Mrs. K. C. Drury, Women's Canadian Club; Mrs. T. Johns, Victoria Women's Institute, and Mrs. R. McInnes, of the Parent-Teacher Association, were named directors of the security council.

Mrs. S. W. Raven told the meeting that the question of air raid protection for school children, judging by the measures planned by H. L. Campbell, was being adequately cared for so far as the responsibility of the city school board went, but that identity discs, if issued, would be perishable under certain conditions, and that fingerprinting as a [illegible] fore preferable.

Howard Tyrrell said that the model shelter hut being erected on Pandora Avenue was well on to completion. Mr. Manning added that the building was now ready for wiring.

SEASON IS OPENED AT THETIS LAKE PARK BY PARTY OF SWIMMERS

The swimming season at Thetis Lake was opened on Sunday afternoon by a dozen boys and girls who took advantage of the bright day to enjoy a swim. Between 200 and 300 persons visited the park and enjoyed walks along the numerous pleasant trails through the woods.

Trout fishing has been quite good in the lake for some time. Last week a number of catches of a dozen Kamloops trout averaging about ten inches in length were reported. The fishermen have been successful with both trolls and flies.

The resort has been made ready for the Spring season. The bathing floats have been resanded and painted. The road into the lake is in good condition, as are the trails about Upper and Lower Thetis Lakes.

SPY HANGS HIMSELF IN U.S. PENITENTIARY

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP).—Carl Herman Schroetter, convicted on espionage and conspiracy charges in New York ten days ago, hanged himself in the Atlanta Penitentiary early on Sunday, the Justice Department announced today.

Schroetter was one of nine defendants convicted in Federal Court of transmitting information on national defence to the enemy. He was admitted to the penitentiary last Friday to serve a ten-year sentence.

Enemy Plane Is Bagged in Upper Burma

CHUNGKING, March 31 (Tuesday), (AP). — Members of the Third Pursuit Squadron of the American "Flying Tigers" shot down one twin-motored Japanese bomber on Sunday afternoon when a number of Japanese planes attacked Lashio in Upper Burma, The Central Chinese News reported today from Kunming.

This was the first Japanese raid on Lashio, which is an important point on the Burma supply road and also a stop on the Chinese-India plane service.

Army Recruiting For B.C. Shows Drop This Month

Recruiting activity in M.D. No. 11 has shown a falling off in March, with 538 volunteers enrolled for the army up to Sunday night to bring the total for the year to 2,306, Lieut.-Colonel H. E. Goodman, district recruiting officer, said yesterday.

"It is hoped that with the coming of Spring there will be an improvement," the recruiting officer said. "To meet requirements as at present estimated, it will be necessary for British Columbia to produce approximately 10,000 recruits during the year."

Of the men enlisting this month, 110 were from Victoria and other Vancouver Island centres, 270 from Vancouver and the Fraser Valley, and 164 from other provincial points. The remainder, twelve recruits, were enlisted by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the Yukon Territories.

Ferry Service Is Now in Operation

SYDNEY, Australia, March 30 (CP). —A Pacific ferry service, similar to the Atlantic Ferry Command of the R.A.F., has been inaugurated between the United States and Australia, it is now permitted to reveal.

A young Australian, who served in the R.A.F. early in the war and later was engaged in the Atlantic Ferry Service, is one of the pilots now flying bombers from American factories to Australia.

He said not a single plane in the Pacific service has been attacked by the enemy.

LOGISTICS

Strategy is the planning of warfare.

Tactics is the execution of those plans.

Logistics, the third branch of military science, is the supplying of everything necessary to strategy and tactics—in the right amount, at the right place, at the right time.

Now, in total war, we must apply the science of Logistics to all of our activities as a nation—civilian as well as military. WE-ALL are part of the Victory Program.

Our supply lines are literally life lines of the United Nations. Manpower and munition-power are the controlling factors.

Today, Logistics dictates strategy—determines tactics.

The governments of the United Nations have appropriated billions of dollars but they cannot appropriate one single second of time.

Time favors those who appreciate it as the priceless commodity it now is.

In war, when we save time we save lives—and we make our individual contribution to Victory.

Conference Is Held by Girls' Clubs

A regional conference which proved of great interest and help to the 150 members of the Y.W.C.A. girls' clubs of Victoria and Vancouver was held during the week-end at the Victoria Y.W.C.A. building, the opening banquet on Saturday evening introducing the theme, "A Philosophy for Living," which was discussed from many angles and viewpoints.

How the "Y" programme may be a help in personal religion and group worship was discussed on Sunday morning under the leadership of Mrs. H. L. Smith, Mrs. Alistair Campbell, Miss Margaret Hart (Vancouver) and Mrs. Margaret Robertson (Vancouver). Their findings showed that ceremonial and worship services are a direct expression of Christian thinking; the "C" in Y.W.C.A. going back to the life of Christ, not to special dogmas and creeds. Religious emphasis was found in activities such as war services, inspirations, openings and closings, educational lectures and group work. In analyzing their activities, the girls found several examples of religious emphasis such as the devotional periods of their club meetings and discussion with guest speakers.

Leading the discussion on health and personal relationship were Mrs. K. Wright, Miss A. Creasor, R.N., Miss P. Kenmuir and Miss J. Morrison, who led the discussion on health, while Mrs. W. G. Hamilton, Miss I. Russell, Mrs. M. Robertson and Miss P. Bibbs introduced the personal relationships theme. It was suggested that everyone should familiarize herself with public health services and help the authorities to promote this work.

The question of hostesses and war marriages was discussed. Careful preparation for marriage was emphasized. Mrs. H. P. Hodges, M.P.P., gave an address on wartime occupations, touching upon opportunities for girls in war industries and dealing at length with the women's branches of the services and voluntary undertakings.

GENERAL convener of the Decorated Tables Display which will be held at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday, April 22, under the auspices of the Junior W.A. of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. The display, which is an annual event, is attracting widespread interest, and the judges will be Mrs. Harry O. Simms, Seattle; Mrs. R. J. Gentles, Vancouver; and Mrs. Lennox Irving, Victoria. In addition to classes devoted to dinner, luncheon, breakfast and tea tables, there will be miniature gardens, floral displays of all kinds and a special class for "interpretation of jewels." Entry forms for the display may now be obtained from members of the auxiliary.

Tea and Tag Day Are Planned by Hospital Group

Plans were made for a tea to be held on May 16 in aid of the Children's Ward of the Jubilee Hospital, at the monthly meeting of the Daughters of Pity, held last evening in the Nurses' Home. The patients of the children's ward have been supplied with clothing by the society, and at the suggestion of the matron, it was decided to purchase needed bedroom slippers and wrappers for the ward. Easter gifts will be bought for each child, and committees were appointed to take charge of the purchases. A tag day was announced for May 30. The president, Miss Marjorie Siddall, was in the chair.

Musical Arts Plans Its Annual Meeting

The monthly executive meeting of the Musical Art Society was held at the Y.W.C.A. last evening, when members were reminded of the annual meeting on April 15, when officers will be elected and several new members nominated for the board of directors. The programme will be in charge of the two junior groups. The two-piano concert to be held on April 11 was announced, and will be given in the Truth Centre by the intermediate group, as the closing programme of the current year.

Weddings

McDONALD—FISHER

Mrs. J. J. Stewart, 73 Moss Street, Victoria, announces the marriage of her daughter, Brenda Joyce Fisher, to Mr. Robert William McDonald, eldest son of Flying Officer and Mrs. C. P. McDonald, 339 Arnold Avenue, Victoria, which took place quietly on March 28, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. F. W. McKinnon.

JOYCE—WALKEY

A pretty wedding of interest in Carberry, Manitoba, as well as in Victoria, took place on Saturday evening, at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. David Smart, Dalhousie Street, Oak Bay, when Rev. F. R. G. Dredge, of Oak Bay United Church, united in marriage, Mary Felice, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Walkey, Carberry, Man., and L.A.C. Steven Charles Joyce, R.A.F., son of Mrs. Joyce and the late Mr. Joyce, Southampton, England.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a sandisheer rose beige jacket frock, with bracelet length sleeves. The jacket was ornamented with trapunto work, and a navy felt hat and matching shoes and gloves completed her ensemble. Gardenias and Ophelia roses completed her corsage bouquet.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The bride's cake, flanked by ivory tapers in silver sconces, centred the table, which was covered with a Queen Anne lace cloth, made by the bride's grandmother. Freesias and peach blossom were attractively arranged on the table, and pink snapdragons, daffodils and forsythias decorated the rooms.

Mrs. Walkey received the guests in a smart black costume, with orchid bodice outlined by filigree work. Her corsage bouquet was of carnations and freesias. The bride and groom were unattended. After a short honeymoon on the island, L.A.C. and Mrs. Joyce will make their home at Patricia Bay.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. M. Walkey, Winnipeg; Mrs. E. J. Campbell, Brandon, grandmothers of the bride, and her aunt, Mrs. H. D. Smyth, of Brandon.

RED CROSS

GANGES UNIT

Under the convenership of Mrs. M. B. Mouat, members of the Ganges Red Cross Unit held a material shower on Saturday, at the Log Cabin, at which they received twenty-eight donations of wool, additional quantities of flannelette, print and crepe, and the sum of $11.25 in cash for the purchase of material. Tea was served during the afternoon, the conveners being assisted by Mrs. G. Lowe and Miss M. Lees. It was arranged to hold a delicatessen stall on Saturday afternoon at Mouat Bros.' store, Ganges. Another shipment of fifty-four woolen articles, made from wool supplied by Red Cross headquarters and knitted by Salt Spring members, was sent by the unit to Victoria. The consignment included sweaters, pullovers, air force helmets, gloves and socks, babies' and children's jackets, vests and socks.

VICTORIA WEST UNIT

The Victoria West Unit of the Red Cross will hold its monthly business meeting in the Victoria West United Church, Raynor Avenue, on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. A tea will be held on April 9.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

GANGES

The annual meeting of Ganges Institute was held recently in the committee room of the Mahon Hall, with Mrs. Charlesworth presiding. Plans were discussed for the annual flower show in June. A class will be made for schoolboys to exhibit the work of their manual art training class and girls their knitting. A competition for children, between the ages of eight and fourteen, in growing either flowers or vegetables will be held. Plans for the dental clinic were undertaken by the principal of the Consolidated School and staff. In response to an appeal from the Solarium, the members accepted tickets on a $50 Victory Bond which they will sell for the benefit of that institution. A letter from Mrs. Alfred Watts regretted her inability to visit Ganges, owing to her leaving for the United States on a tour. A letter read appealed for assistance for the Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund, which provides Y.W.C.A. comforts for women war workers in England. In response to this request, it was decided to hold a home produce and cooking stall on Saturday, April 11, at Mouat Bros.' store, Ganges. Tea hostesses were Mrs. D. Fyvie and Mrs. W. M. Palmer.

DO YOU FEEL NERVOUS AND ALL ON EDGE?

People suffering from loss of appetite and run-down condition with symptoms of nerve strain, often need a nerve and general tonic. Glyceco Lecithin with Vitamin B (1) supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B (1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal. If the loss of appetite was due to a deficiency of Vitamin B (1) in the diet, $1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores. (Advt.)

Display Is Given for Red Cross

The Red Cross Society will benefit from the annual gymnastic demonstration given last night by the pupils of St. Margaret's School, the programme to be repeated this evening at 8 o'clock for the same cause. Directed by Miss Elizabeth Bleakney, with Miss Helen Riley as accompanist, the girls gave a remarkably interesting and well-arranged programme of drills, dances, gymnastics, apparatus work and tumbling. The most spectacular feature was the final march, in which the whole school took part, and which ended by a "V for Victory" being formed by torchlights, the effect being most striking as the gymnasium was "blacked out" as the final chords of music were played. Flags of the Allies and the school's house flags made an effective background.

SINGING GAMES

The programme opened with a singing game, "The Farmer in the Dell," in which the kindergarten and Form Ib took part, the children's complete enjoyment of their game being a delight to the spectators. Then followed two dances, "Indian Braves" and a Swedish number, "Gustaf's Skoal," by Forms Ia and II. In their gymnastic work, Form III was particularly noteworthy and well above the average for children of their age. The kindergarten and Form Ib took part in a relay race, which was followed by folk dancing: "In My Garden," a lively Russian number by Form IV. Forms Ia and II appeared in a tumbling act, performing somersaults, "rocking horse" and pyramids with great agility.

"Little Man in a Fix" and "Bummel Schottische" were the folk dances given by Form II, and later in the programme Form V performed two delightful folk dances, "La Cucaracha," Mexican number, and "Pas D'Espan," a Russian waltz, in which the vigorous spirit of both music and steps were caught by the dancers.

Gymnastics of both the Swedish and Danish schools were performed by Forms V and VI, respectively, the first with musical accompaniment showing precision of movement and complete co-ordination, and the latter without musical accompaniment. In American square dancing by Form VI the girls revived dance steps which belong to days gone by, calling their own instructions with infectious gaiety.

A special class demonstrated vaulting, mat work and pyramids, performing in massed groups and providing a great deal of interest for the spectators, who were enthusiastic in their reception of the entire programme and of the thoroughness of the training by Miss Bleakney.

There was a capacity audience, and at the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served in the school dining-room, where Miss Pearce, the headmistress, and Miss Bleakney welcomed the parents and friends of the pupils, as well as many members of the Old Girls' Association.

FIRST BAPTIST

The monthly meeting of the First Baptist Young People's Union was held recently, and after the business session Miss Sylvia Smith gave an account of the founding of the Canadian Baptist Mission in India. Indian refreshments were served in Indian fashion, under the supervision of Miss McGill, a returned missionary. The next meeting will be held tomorrow with Vera Waller in charge. All young people will be welcomed.

"PIN-MONEY" FROCK IS GAY

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern No. 4952

JUST a little "pin-money" will make this cheery frock—and how nice it is to work in! Pattern 4952 by Anne Adams is fun to sew, too—it doesn't take long to stitch up. See the smart, convenient front buttoning, the unusual scalloped collar and cuffs which could be in contrasting pique on a vegetable-print dress—or make the dress all of one fabric. The optional pockets are scalloped too. You'll find this frock slims down a larger figure cleverly and yet gives you freedom while you work. Let the Sewing Instructor help you make one short-sleeved frock for work-a-day wear, perhaps another with long shirtmaker sleeves for the street. There are so many attractive, inexpensive cottons to choose from—order this budget mode today!

Pattern 4952 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3¾ yards 35-inch fabric and ¾ yard contrast.

Send Twenty Cents (20c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Choristers Are Heard In Recital

A substantial sum, which will be given to the Burns Club for the Scottish war effort, was realized by the recital held last evening by the Georgian Choristers in the Chamber of Commerce Hall. Mrs. Georgina Watt, who trained and directed the choristers, was given great praise for her excellent work in a vote of thanks expressed by Dr. Wallace Gunn, of the Highland Games Association and a member of the Burns Club war effort committee. Dr. Gunn spoke of the beauty of the choruses, of their purity of diction and of the beautiful blending and shading of the voices. A noteworthy point about the recital was that the entire programme was memorized.

Mr. Gilbert Margison, the guest violinist, played Scottish airs, and as an encore to his second group, Schuman's "Evening Song." It was regretted that Mr. Fraser Lister, who was also to have been a guest vocalist, was unable to be present.

Miss Ethel James, as accompanist, received a share of the applause which followed the playing of the final number, and throughout the programme she gave sympathetic and artistic support.

The trios comprised Nellie Savin, C. Hardy and B. Gill, and J. Wenning, J. Leggatt and M. Ratcliffe.

The opening number was "Music When Soft Voices Die" (Wood) and "Robin Adair" (Fletcher). The "Land o' the Leal" (Ould), the humorous "Rantin' Rovin' Robin," "The Eeriskay Love Lilt," "A Highland Milking Song," "Annie Laurie," "Twenty Eighteen," "Lullaby" (Brahms) and "Holy Night" (Beethoven) were among the outstanding choral numbers. Mrs. Watt delighted the audience with two solos, and the numbers sung by the trios were: "Turn Ye to Me" and "Come to the Fair." In place of Mr. Lister's solo, Miss Joan Wenning sang "Afton Water."

Jubilee Junior W.A.

Committee reports read at the meeting of the Junior W.A. of the Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon at the Nurses' Home included that of the diets convener, Mrs. J. U. Copeman, who reported three cases carried on; knitting, Mrs. C. L. Aylard, who reported showcase sales amounting to $5.50; Mrs. E. Goodall, bandaging convener, reported 14,484 fluffs and swabs made, and Miss McBride, social service worker, reported eighteen home visits, boarding home care arranged for six patients, transportation for five patients and clothing and layettes for four patients; Mrs. P. F. Howden reported seven home and fourteen hospital visits. A nominating committee was appointed. Plans for the decorated tables display on April 22 at the Empress Hotel were discussed. It was reported that 125 donors are needed to complete the blood bank. A gift of knitted articles was received with thanks from Mrs. Fulton.

Church Group

The Evening Group of First United Church met at the home of Mrs. J. A. M. Beere, 1019 Roslyn Avenue, on March 25, the president, Mrs. R. Wallace, in the chair. Mrs. Beere gave the Easter devotional and Miss Marie McDougall reviewed the book, "The Far West Coast," by V. L. Denton. A report was received from the knitting convener, and during the course of the business session plans were discussed for the group's yearly project. The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Mildred Wright of the St. John Ambulance nursing division, who spoke on civilian air raid precautions. Miss G. Derkin thanked the speaker and also the hostess.

Carnival Planned To Aid Solarium

Capital City Lodges, No. 61 and 53, D.O.K.K., Knights of Pythias, will hold their third annual dance, carnival and floor show at the Crystal Garden on Tuesday, April 7, from 9 to 1 o'clock in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium. A popular orchestra has been engaged and there will be contests for which prizes have been donated.

Pupils of Miss Florence Clough will take part in the floor show. The carnival is under the direction of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Korassan. Tickets may be obtained by telephoning Mr. H. R. Brown, Garden 5022, or Mr. John Scoular, Garden 8188.

It is hoped that the general public will patronize the entertainment as the Knights of Pythias are anxious to make a particularly large donation to further the work on behalf of crippled children.

Anglican Young People

GIRLS' COUNCIL

The monthly meeting of the Anglican Girls' Council was held on Wednesday, with the president, Doris Lancaster, in the chair. After the devotional service, the roll call was read. Two delegates from the new branch at St. Mark's Church were welcomed. Eunice Hewitt asked that all Dorcas work be turned in, and also the squares for the council quilt. It was suggested that next year the educational secretary have a study book, and bring literature to the meetings for the branches. Wendy Perkins volunteered to look after the social hour at the annual conference, April 8 and 9, and every branch was asked to bring cookies. Hospitality for the Up-Island delegates is still needed, it was reported. Eunice Hewitt, Joan Luke and Irene Noel will represent the city branches at the conference debate. Duncan and Quamichan branches will be in opposition.

INDIA'S LEADERS DEBATING OFFER

to the Crown, and equal to them in every respect, and never a subordinate in any respect.

EXISTING CONSTITUTION

"There is, however, an existing constitution which regulates the central or provincial governments of India, and everyone agrees that in these troublous times we cannot here and now set about forging a new constitution.

"It is far too important a matter for the future of India to be improvised in a hurried way . . .

"The new constitution should be framed by the elected representatives of the Indian people themselves . . .

"We have invited the appointment of a representative of the Indian Government to take a position in the War Cabinet. When the war is over India's representatives will take their places side by side with those of other free nations in order to make her own contribution to the building of a new world order."

Britain will continue to be responsible for India's defence, he said, but reminded Indians that their help was needed to make that defence "more effective and more powerful."

WITH HIGHEST HOPES

He said he awaited the decision with the highest hopes, but the day brought no indication of when a reply might be forthcoming from the two dominant political groups whose assent is essential: the All-India Congress and the Moslem League.

The working committee of the Congress, which speaks for the majority of the 240,000,000 Hindus, adjourned until tomorrow after hours of secret debate.

The leaders of the 77,000,000 Moslems also were in protracted discussions, so it appeared unlikely that decisions would be reached until later in the week.

The Hindu Mahasabha, India's third largest party, was reported to have told Sir Stafford already that the plan was unacceptable because it included the possibility of separate Moslem domains. Well-informed sources, however, said this group's opposition would mean little if the Congress and the Moslem League were agreeable.

Since the Moslems' most cherished objective is recognized in the promise that any provinces can elect to remain outside the proposed post-war Indian union, the attention of observers centred chiefly on the Congress party.

Its decision appeared to hinge largely on the course of one man, Pandit Jawaharlari Nehru.

With the support of Nehru and another strong Congress leader, Raja Gopala Chariar, it was believed the Congress might be swung to accept the plan even if the revered Mohandas K. Gandhi should refuse his endorsement.

Gandhi today was observing one of his periods of silence and did not attend the Congress committee meeting.

He is expected, however, to address the committee tomorrow.

Committee members were understood all to have expressed their individual views on the Cripps plan.

CONTINUES INTERVIEWS

Sir Stafford meanwhile continued interviewing individual leaders, including the Premier of Bengal and Dr. Ghimrao Ramji Ambedkar, leader of the lowest Hindu caste, the 50,000,000 "untouchables."

Leaders of India's major political parties announced today they would make known either tonight or tomorrow their decisions on the British proposal to grant India dominion status after the war.

Executive meetings of the All-India Congress Party, the major Hindu organization, and the Moslem League, were in progress today.

In the Congress and in some other circles, disappointment was expressed over Sir Stafford Cripps' announcement that the defence of the teeming sub-continent must remain in Britain's hands during the war.

SUBMITTING RESOLUTION

Union Delegates Meet and Discuss Minister's Continuous Work Proposals

Delegates from all local unions associated with the A.F. of L., C.C.L. and C.P.L., with the exception of the boilermakers, were represented at a meeting held under the auspices of Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference on Sunday evening last, at 1110 Broad Street. The delegates represented twenty local unions, the meeting being called for the purpose of discussing proposals outlined by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, while on the coast a short time ago.

Labor Minister Mitchell proposed the adoption in coast shipbuilding plants of a seven-day week and twenty-four-hour a day schedule. As a result of the meeting local shipbuilders are prepared to comply, provided a plan which the delegates agreed to offer is acceptable. The plan embraces the choice of one of two provisions.

Under the first one the workers would have shifts continually on the job under existing agreements, which call for time and one-half pay for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays. As an alternative they delegates would agree to have work continuous, provided profits on shipbuilding projects were limited to 5 per cent and a special labor-management committee is set up to direct shipbuilding activity.

Putting their proposals in the form of a resolution, before the meeting closed, the delegates will take it before individual unions for confirmation on Thursday night of this week, when another meeting of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference will be held in the Hamley Building for the purpose of determining what action will be taken regarding the proposals advanced by the Minister of Labor. Results of the meeting will be forwarded Friday to the management of the Victoria Machinery Depot and Yarrows Limited. The resolution adopted Sunday night follows:

THE RESOLUTION

"Be it resolved that the present agreements regarding hours of work, Sundays and holidays, be maintained until a maximum of 5 per cent profit be allowed in the shipbuilding industry, labor-management production committees be immediately instituted to bring about greater efficiency in the all-out war effort, and equal representation on all government boards be effected to insure equal sacrifice and the guarantee of union security, and the fulfillment of this policy will assure the workers that their unions are guaranteed the right to live free from attack and that no selfish interests shall be allowed to capitalize on Canada's war effort, which conviction will unleash the unmeasured energy of the workers for maximum war production."

At Sunday's gathering of delegates, all went on record urging a "yes" vote on the coming plebiscite; during the evening the delegates stood in silent tribute to the memory of the late J. S. Woodsworth; and a committee of three, including W. Genno, B. Brown and O. Wilkinson was appointed to look into the local fuel situation.

Mainland Flyer Meets Death on Active Service

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP)—Word has been received by Mrs. John Hanbury here of the death of her son, Squadron Leader Bruce A. Hanbury, thirty-one, of Vancouver, on active duty with the Royal Canadian Air Force. His wife, the former Nancy Burris, is now living in Hamilton, Ont.

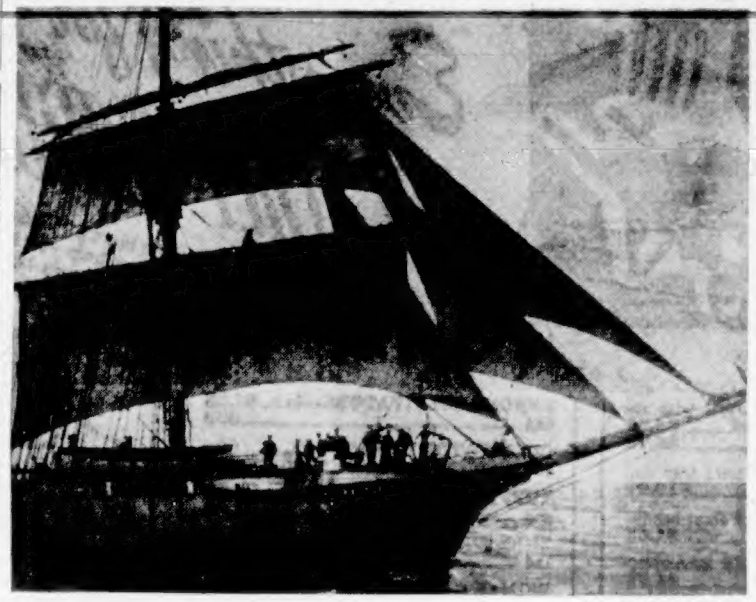

Formerly with Trans-Canada Air Lines, Squadron Leader Hanbury went overseas with the first R.C.A.F. squadron as flying officer and served with the Royal Air Force Fighter Command in the London area for several months. He was promoted to the rank of squadron leader in September, 1941.

A younger brother, Ross, is serving with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Three-Masted Bark Completes Passage

—Courtesy Shipping Register

"BARK Kahului arrived today (port censored), South Africa. Voyage 126 days." Such was the message posted on the board of the San Francisco Marine Exchange recently. The message carried with it more than a mere acknowledgment that a ship had arrived at its destination. It meant that the three-masted bark, one of the last windships of its kind in the world still doing business, had arrived all well after a voyage from the Pacific Coast via Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope. The Kahului carried a full load of lumber, and the picture was taken when she sailed last Fall. The old ship was launched at Bath, Maine, in 1899. She was built as the initial vessel in the start of an Hawaiian merchant marine, long dreamed of by King Kalakua, and was named Kahului, meaning "Star of Heaven," which was the name of a beautiful Hawaiian princess. Unfortunately, the merchant marine dreamed of by Kalakua never got very far owing to the king's untimely death.

Shipyards Could Construct Fleet Of Wooden Craft

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP).—In a letter written on behalf of wooden shipyards on the Pacific Coast, Gilbert Jukes, of Vancouver Shipyards, Ltd., and chairman of the boatbuilders' section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, asked for support of the city council today in an effort to have a programme for construction of wooden freighters put into effect in British Columbia.

Mr. Jukes' letter said that "in spite of the glaring fact that today ships are the most urgently needed single item of war equipment, our yards are allowed to stand almost idle. . . . Wooden shipyards on this Coast could contribute between 450,000 and 600,000 tons of additional cargo ships over a two-year period."

YOUNG SAILORS FROM MAINLAND PORT LOST

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP).—Two Vancouver brothers, John and Donald Davis, are missing aboard an Allied ship on the Atlantic, their mother, Mrs. E. A. Davis, has been informed by the company operating the vessel.

The brothers left Vancouver fourteen months ago. John is twenty-four and Donald twenty-two.

The telegram received by their mother said that the two are "missing and must be considered lost." It said their ship was sunk.

HUNT FOR SABOTEURS

EL CENTRO, Cal., March 30 (AP).—Traffic over the Southern Pacific's main line near here was restored early today with the temporary repair of two wooden trestles, which, officials say, were deliberately set afire.

The F.B.I. joined local officers and railroad agents in a hunt for saboteurs, since evidence of oil was found on both trestles.

EXTRA SERVICES TO BE PROVIDED

Canadian Pacific Makes Arrangements to Take Care of Expected Heavy Easter Traffic

Steamboat arrangements to take care of the extra heavy traffic looked for between Victoria-Vancouver and Vancouver-Victoria during the coming holiday week-end have been completed, according to an announcement made yesterday by R. J. Burland, general agent of Canadian Pacific Steamships.

On Thursday, April 2, the Ss. Princess Victoria will be an extra night boat leaving here for Vancouver at midnight. On Friday, April 3, the Ss. Princess Joan will make an extra trip from Vancouver to Victoria, departing from the Mainland port at 10:30 a.m.

On Friday, April 3, Ss. Princess Elizabeth is scheduled to make an extra trip between Victoria and Vancouver, leaving here at 1:30 p.m. These extra sailings will not affect the regular nightly services from both ports, or the extra boats between the two ports on Saturday afternoon from Victoria and Sunday afternoon from Vancouver.

On Monday, April 6, Ss. Princess Joan will be an extra steamer leaving Vancouver for Victoria at 10:30 a.m. In the opposite direction on the same day Ss. Princess Elizabeth will be an extra sailing from Victoria for Vancouver at 1:20 p.m.; while Ss. Princess Victoria will make an extra trip from Vancouver to Victoria on Monday, leaving the Mainland port at midnight.

URGES NEED OF ALL RESOURCES

Secretary of U.S. Navy Sees Theatres of Action Gradually Expanding

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP).—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said today that "one of the most urgent measures to be solved is the control and protection" of inter-American shipping, disruption of which, he said, is the objective of enemy submarine operations along the coasts.

Knox spoke before the opening session of the Inter-American Defence Board on behalf of the United States Navy. He urged complete utilization of national resources to meet the expanding threat of the war.

"The increasing danger of the war coming to the Americas is shown by the gradual expansion of the theatres of action," Knox said. "In 1940 it was called the Battle of Britain; in 1941, the Battle of the North Atlantic.

"We must now prepare for an extension of the theatre of action to the South Atlantic and to the entire Pacific."

Secretary of War Stimson assured the board "we shall never swerve from our purpose to carry this great war to a successful and victorious conclusion, or relax our energies until the enemies of freedom have been decisively crushed."

ALIAS GROUNDHOG

The woodchuck is a vegetarian.

According to Culbertson

The squeeze is almost exclusively a weapon of the declarer. It is rare indeed that the defenders can turn this play to their own account.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	1 ♥	Dbl.	Pass
1 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

South, with an abnormally long club suit, a singleton heart, and only a king on the side, did not like one heart double. He took the double out to one no trump rather than to two clubs, in the hope that there might be a game in no trump. North, being entirely void of clubs, did not care for the hand and promptly passed.

Impressed by North's double of one heart, West chose to open the spade jack. Dummy ducked, as did East, and declarer won. Obviously, declarer was in a ticklish position. It appeared that the only hope was to drop the club queen, and on that logical theory, the club ace and king were cashed, dummy discarding hearts. When the queen failed to drop, declarer (rather inconsistently) continued clubs, discarding a diamond from dummy. West won with the queen and promptly underled his heart ace. This was a bright ray of hope for declarer, who thought there was a chance to win with his singleton jack. Hence, he ducked in dummy.

East, however, went up with the queen and promptly returned a heart. West took his ace, and threw dummy on lead with the heart king. Now declarer had to make a highly uncomfortable exit from the dummy and, unfortunately for himself, chose to lead the nine of diamonds. East hopped up with the jack and promptly returned the diamond seven. West won and two heart leads put dummy into an inexorable squeeze. On the first of these, dummy could let go the spade eight, but on the second was helpless. If dummy blanked the spade queen, the defenders would collect the last two tricks with high spades. If the diamond king were let go, East would discard down to the blank ace of spades and hold the high diamond for the final trick. Thus by the striking line of defence (aided and abetted by weak play on the part of declarer) the contract was defeated three tricks.

SHIPPING MAN DIES

Captain A. B. Clarke, Pacific Coast representative of the Donaldson Line, died yesterday on a train while on his way north from San Francisco to his home in Vancouver, according to advices received here by Rithet Consolidated, local agents for the steamship company.

Captain Clarke had represented the line for several decades past, and was well known in all Coast ports, including Victoria. His funeral will take place in the Mainland city on Thursday of this week.

I'm a better man than you
—and I'll prove it!

Our contempt for the Japanese has got us into a lot of trouble. They have set out to do a certain job, and up to now they've done it according to schedule. Their present drive means that every man in the field, in the navy, in the air force, is doing his utmost—and every civilian at home backing their men to the limit.

Is a Jap a better man than you are? Can they plan, produce, act, with greater determination and efficiency than Canadians?

Their one hope of success is in a "blitzkrieg." A "blitzkrieg" means fighting a war as though it must be finished in six months. It's up to us to beat them at their own game. Here's the way to do it—prepare for a long war, and work as though the whole thing had to be finished in six months.

BRAVE MEN SHALL NOT DIE BECAUSE I FALTERED

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If March 31 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.; from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 8 to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a.m.; from 7 to 9 p.m., and from 11 p.m. until midnight.

Individual likes and dislikes should be respected, if the germs of discontent are not to be sown. As the last day of the month, March 31 is apt to be a busy for many people, so be most considerate if you feel you must take up some businessman's time. March 31 will be a day on which you will avoid needless discussion and hard feeling if you will accept the refusals of others without argument. Deliberate rudeness, at any time, is inexcusable, but on March 31 it is apt to be met with a severe rebuff that is likely to be mortifying to its recipient. Be on your guard against creating fire hazards, especially by using inflammable materials carelessly. Married, engaged and love-smitten couples must realise that a loss of faith in the sincerity of one another almost may approach a tragedy, so every precaution should be taken against occurrences of this nature.

If you are a woman and March 31 is your birthday, never dismiss any of your intuitions with a shrug of your shoulders or a toss of your head, for a surprising number of them are likely to be right. Get into the habit of thinking important matters over before making a decision as to how you are going to act. An undue amount of impulsiveness can handicap you in the advancement of your interests. Never turn a deaf ear to the stories of others, no matter how fantastic they may seem to be in the beginning, for in the telling a surprising amount of truth may be revealed. As a designer, demonstrator, writer, doctor, lawyer, trained nurse, research worker, literary woman, or in some artistic endeavor you may find yourself an influence for a good deal of good in your community and riding high on a wave of prosperity. As a married woman you are likely to endear yourself to many hearts, especially that of your husband.

The child born on March 31 must have snobbish tendencies suppressed as soon as they become noticeable. Any inclination, during his formative years, to be a copycat will require his parents to act with a great deal of circumspection, especially if he has a tendency to display an uncalled-for amount of affectation. If brought up naturally, Aries children generally develop into really worth-while members of society, who give their parents ample justification to be proud of them and their achievements.

By maintaining high principles and the proper standards of living, the man born on March 31 should, as a lawyer, doctor, architect, contractor, builder, businessman, journalist, author, artist, musician, agriculturist, clergyman, scientist, or in some military activity, prove to be an unqualified success.

Wheezing in the Chest Points to Bronchitis

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a dry, harsh, hacking cough accompanied by a rapid wheezing and tightness across the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning. This phlegm is at first of a light colour, but as the trouble progresses becomes yellowish or greenish.

You may find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, relieve the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and aid nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, about 3 times as much, 60c, at all drug counters.

English Flyer's Death in Plane Crash Confirmed

The death of Flight Lieutenant P. A. Kimpton of Patricia Bay in the crash of a bombing plane near Lordsburg, New Mexico, last Friday was confirmed by the Royal Air Force O.T.U. Headquarters, Patricia Bay, yesterday.

Kimpton, who came to Patricia Bay from England about six months ago, was at first reported killed and later reported injured in the crash of the Bristol Beaufort medium twin-engine bomber from the R.A.F. station.

Squadron Leader N. K. [illegible] of Kelowna, B.C., a first reported killed, was [illegible] escaped [illegible] occupants of [illegible] with minor injuries.

Lordsburg is [illegible] United States-Mexico boundary and about 1,300 miles from Patricia Bay.

Harold A. Osgood Purchases Block

Harold A. Osgood, proprietor of Osgood's Furniture Store, 1417 Broad Street, and Mary E. Osgood have purchased the building's premises in which Mr. Osgood carries on his furniture business. The property is known as Lot 666, Victoria City, and has a frontage of [illegible] feet on Broad Street between Johnson Street and Pandora Avenue and a depth of 120 feet.

Permanence of present location, room for a growing business, together with faith in the future of the city of Victoria were the factors which caused Mr. and Mrs. Osgood to make the purchase.

The estate of Sir Charles [illegible] Hobhouse of Shrewsbury, England, was the vendor, the firm of Alfred Carmichael & Company, Ltd., acting for both vendor and purchaser.

PRICE OF COAL MUST DECREASE

Metal, Fuel Deposits Becoming More Important—No Steel Mill in Sight

With a wartime shortage of oil, British Columbia coal is becoming increasingly important in provincial economy, and its price must come down, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Mines and Trade and Industry, told members of the Gyro Club yesterday in a luncheon address at the Empress Hotel.

Although gold would always be important in British Columbia the real need now was for iron, tungsten and other ores. "Gold won't build tanks and guns," he said.

There were considerable iron deposits in British Columbia, but as yet there was no steel mill in sight, he stated, and there was little indication that Ottawa would do anything about it, although there had been slight indications that the Federal Government might be willing to co-operate with certain interests.

UP TO OTTAWA

With approximately $16,500,000 [illegible] this province, the British Columbia Government could not develop such a project, Mr. Anscomb said. The project would have to be started either by the Federal Government alone or in co-operation with private interests.

The quantities of [illegible] and markets were main problems standing in the way of establishing such a [illegible] British Columbian [illegible] markets were west of Winnipeg, he said.

The Provincial Government would [illegible] Mr. Anscomb said, adding "but you can't avoid economics."

REHABILITATION PLANS

Dealing with postwar conditions, Mr. Anscomb said that the rehabilitation problem after this war would be greater than following the war of 1914-18, and that the Provincial Government had already taken definite action to avoid the mistakes of the last postwar period.

Under Provincial statute a special rehabilitation board of twelve members, chosen for their knowledge of different parts of British Columbia, had been set up to study the problem from every conceivable angle. The findings of the board would be used to work out a plan to be ready when peace was declared, he said.

Victoria Airman Is Dangerously Ill

SGT.-PILOT JAMES ASSELSTINE

WHO has been seriously injured on active service in England, according to a cable received by his father, W. J. Asselstine, former Minister of Mines, and Mrs. Asselstine, 1149 Faithful Street. He suffered fractures of the ribs with possible puncture of the lung, compound fractures of the left leg and fractured arm. The cable said he was dangerously ill. Sergeant-Pilot Asselstine, who is twenty-two, received his wings at Calgary on September 20, 1941. He has been stationed in England since early October where he was in charge of a Wellington bomber. He attended Brentwood College, Victoria High School and Victoria College.

HARBOR FACES GRAVE HAZARD

Industrial Representatives Discuss Means of Securing Fire-Fighting Ship

Means by which a fire boat could be secured to protect property fronting the harbor was be [illegible] by T. Moffatt, Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd.; Arthur Saunders, Sidney Roofing & Paper Co. Ltd.; D. Prentice, Canadian Pacific Railway; M. Martindale, Union Oil Company of Canada Ltd., and Inspector Arthur H. Bishop, [illegible] protection officer. It was decided during a meeting of industrialists at the City Hall yesterday.

Those present at the conference outlined plans they had already undertaken for the protection of their own property and expressed [illegible] the protection of the community.

Mayor Andrew McGavin stated it was impossible to determine what fires might be caused by enemy action, and did not think the city could increase its fire department [illegible] of $189,6[illegible] to provide for a fire boat.

Inspector Bishop emphasized the grave fire hazard created by [illegible] Reserve, which was Provincial Government property. Fire Chief Alex Munro stated [illegible] R. W. Mayhew, M.P., speaking as head of his industry, thought independent action undertaken and contemplated by harbor-front concerns might be of greater value than a fire boat.

PRISON TERMS FOR LINDLEY AND WARD

Convicted on a charge of attempting to commit burglary in the shop of Allan Pynn at 1812 Cook Street on February [illegible] Roy Lindley and Walter Ward were each sentenced to serve nine months in prison at hard labor at the conclusion of their trial before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court yesterday afternoon. Joseph M. Kenna [illegible] accused, and Gordon A. Cameron appeared for the prosecution. A second charge [illegible] attempting to commit burglary at the shop of William Clark at 1064 Pandora Avenue on February 3 was dropped.

City & District

City Temperatures — Maximum and minimum temperatures recorded yesterday at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill were 62 and 43 degrees, respectively. The maximum temperature observed on the grounds of the Strathcona Hotel was 65 degrees and the minimum 42 degrees.

Attempted Theft—[illegible] made to steal gasoline from a storage tank at the Davis-Drake Motors, Ltd., 900 Fort Street, by removing a metal cover and cap early Sunday morning.

Room Damaged—Fire believed to have originated from a lighted cigarette caused damage of $60 to furnishings in a room at the San An Rooms, 568½ Yates Street, at 12.45 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

No Major Accidents—So far as Provincial Police headquarters were advised, Sunday passed without major accidents in any part of British Columbia though the weather was mild and outing travel at one of its peaks for the new year.

Rifle Taken — Police were informed yesterday that a B.S.A. 22-calibre rifle had been stolen from North Ward School during the week-end. No signs of entry were found. A large window was also smashed at Victoria West School.

Dangerous Driving—Convicted on a charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public at Esquimalt Road and Russell Street early Sunday morning, a truck driver was fined $25 and lost his driver's licence for one month in the city police court yesterday.

Seven Fined — Three motorists were each fined $2.50 yesterday in the city police court for various infractions of parking regulations. Another paid a $5 fine for parking against a fire hydrant. Three others each were fined $10 for speeding past school zones.

Purses Stolen—Mrs. Kelso Keihe, 1122 Government Street, informed police early Sunday morning that her purse containing $1.50 and a registration card had been stolen from the Empire Hall on Broad Street. Mrs. G. Sutton, 813 Cook Street, also lost her purse containing change and personal articles on the same premises.

WORK OF NIGHT CLASSES SHOWN

Wide Variety in Exhibits on Display at Central Junior High School

A wide variety of artistic and practical creations produced by more than 600 students who attended the classes of the Victoria Evening School during the Fall and Winter terms, were on display at the Central Junior High School last night.

The exhibit marked the close of the term which ended last Thursday and drew an attendance of more than 200 interested visitors. Specimens of the work done in twelve of the thirty-five classes were on display ranging all the way from woodwork to dressmaking.

MORE WOMEN THIS YEAR

A feature of the session this year, instructors said, was the larger attendance of women in classes which in the past have attracted men almost exclusively. This was notably the case in the woodwork classes in which fourteen women were enrolled.

Exhibits on display included the work of students in the following classes: Mechanical drawing, photography, armature winding, commercial art, dress appreciation, dressmaking, electricity, machine construction and drawing, pottery and drawing, pottery, sheet metal drafting and woodwork.

The classes are held under the direction of the Victoria School Board.

EXTRA SPECIALS

1940 FORD SEDAN — If you want to waste time you may search the country and not find such a snap as this. It could be improved by a little fixing up but at our "as is" price you can well afford to do this and still have a wonderfully cheap car. If you appreciate value and need a light car, you will grab this one, or someone will beat you to it. The tires are good.
$665

1939 NASH SEDAN — Spotless inside and out. We have done everything we found necessary to make it smooth, quiet and economical. It looks and runs like new. The equipment is de luxe and includes air conditioning. The tires are first class and with reasonable care should give twenty-five thousand or more miles. You can safely buy this good car with the idea of keeping it a long time with entire satisfaction. A run will impress you that here indeed is very unusual value. See it today.

NOTICE is hereby given that on the 18th day of April next, the undersigned intends to apply to the Liquor Control Board for a licence in respect of premises being part of a building to be known as the Esquimalt Hotel, situate on the south side of Esquimalt Road, upon the lands described as East 160 feet of Lot 6, Composite Plan 2538, Esquimalt Land Registration District, in the Province of British Columbia, for the sale of beer by the glass or by the bottle for consumption on the premises or elsewhere.
Dated this 17th day of March, 1942.
JESSIE BRUNSDON, Applicant.

Note: This is not an additional licence, but one to replace that formerly held by the applicant in respect of the Esquimalt Hotel, at 849 Pioneer Street, which is being taken over by the Department of National Defence.

Leaders Manage Slight Recovery On Wall Street

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP).—It was a case of self-rationing in the stock market today, and while many leaders managed to show a modest recovery trend others held to Saturday's levels or slipped a shade.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was unchanged at 34.4. Transfers of 229,290 shares were among the smallest since last May and compared with 313,440 Friday.

Zenith Radio was one of the few stocks to touch a new 1942 top with a modest gain. Others in front at the finish included General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Union Carbide, United States Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Chesapeake & Ohio, Douglas Aircraft, Deere, Anaconda, American Can and General Electric.

Allied Chemical dropped 3 points on a few trades. Others on the off-side were International Harvester, United Aircraft, Santa Fe, Woolworth, Westinghouse, J. C. Penney, Dupont, Johns-Manville, Air Reduction and Cerro de Pasco.

General Wavell Had Close Call

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 30 (CP).—Lieut.-Gen. Sir John Laverack disclosed today that General Sir Archibald Wavell crashed in a plane in enemy territory near the Egyptian border in April, 1941, and was missing for thirty-six hours.

The Germans and Italians were unaware of the crash (which apparently was at about the time of the Axis push which recovered Cirenaica). General Laverack said, and General Wavell finally reached the British lines safely.

PRETORIA (CP).—The South African Government has offered a reward of £1,000 ($4,470) for information in connection with cutting of telegraph and telephone lines between Pretoria and Capetown.

Murder on the Avenue

By CAROLYN WELLS

(Copyright, 1942, by Carolyn Wells)

CHAPTER IV

Martha Malcolm came to the bar.

"Oh, here you are, Una," she said, smiling at the happy-looking girl. "Wait a minute till I have [illegible] take you to meet our hostess. She is a dear and will adore you. 'Fraid I forgot about you, but you seem to have landed on your feet."

"Yes, Miss Malcolm, I'm enjoying the party—as you prophesied."

"So I did. Now let me see—where is Alma? Anybody know?"

"Let me take Miss Deane," offered Ogden Murray. "You stay here, Miss Malcolm. I'll hunt out Alma and present Miss Deane in your name."

"Yes, do, Ogden. And find Hugh, too. I want Una to meet him."

"'Tis the same as done. Will you come, Miss Deane, and," he added, as they walked away, "if you'll let me call you Una, I'll——"

He paused, for the girl was laughing at him.

"Sorry," she said, "but you've got your lines wrong. Or have you? Miss Malcolm told me that the men here would be hilariously informal, and would call me Una at first sight and probably darling——"

"Yes, I meant to—I do mean to, but you see——"

"You mean I am not in the know, and you're uncertain just how I'd take you."

"Exactly. Now you tell me how you want me. Ultra formal, just medium or a racketty pal."

Una laughed. "Medium, please," she said; "at first, anyhow, and then if I want to, I can adjust the gauge. Tell me a little more about Miss Malcolm, won't you? I've never seen her social side before. I've only known her in the classes."

"She's an important woman. Does work in many fields, in war, in [illegible] But she's eccentric."

"Not in her manner?"

"Not exactly, though she is a little informal. We all are, but it seems odd in her. Then she makes queer friends."

"Like me?"

Murray looked at her reprovingly.

"Don't be silly," he said. "It doesn't suit you. You are——"

She interrupted him. "Never mind about me, tell me something about the McCleods. Quick, before we reach them."

"No orders. Just keep your gentleness and simplicity and don't try to be smart."

"As if I would."

"Oh, yes, you would. And I'm afraid you will. But don't. I want you to be friends with Alma. She can do a lot for you."

"I don't choose friends because of what they can do for me."

"Well, you ought to. Any way, do in this case. Alma McCleod can give you far more pleasure than Martha Malcolm."

"They're both Scotch, aren't they?"

"Oh, no. Miss Malcolm is of Scotch stock, but Alma is Hugh's wife, you know. He's Scotch, of course. Oh, here we are."

Alma, having come through a doorway, stood in front of them, and Murray made the introduction.

"How delightful," Alma said, and her tone was sincere. "Miss Malcolm told me of you and I was about to look you up. Tell me, do you live in the city?"

"Yes, I am in the classes with Miss Malcolm. She made me very happy, bringing me here tonight."

"I hope you will come again—often. And here is my husband. Hugh, this is Miss Deane, a friend of Martha's, and now a friend of ours."

"How do you do, Miss Deane? Good of you to come. You looking after her, Murray? Yes, yes. Sorry, Miss Deane, but I have a most important matter to attend to. I must go. See you when I come back, soon, yes, yes—soon, I'm sure."

He grasped Una's hand a moment, and then went quickly away.

She looked up at Murray and found him watching her. Alma had disappeared.

"He's very much in earnest," she said, thoughtfully.

"Think so? Why?"

"Oh, his manner and his haste."

"He's always like that; it's just his way."

"It isn't a Scotch way."

"That doesn't matter. It's Hugh's way. I say, I thought you took things as they came."

"I do. And I'm glad you checked up on me. But you see things are coming strangely tonight. I mean they're strange to me. You are used to all this touch and go, this off and on, this——"

"Hit or miss."

"Yes, that's it. It all seems hit or miss to me, but I know it doesn't to you who are used to it."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

BACKLIGHTING

Backlighting gives the very pleasing halo about this little girl's head. You can get similar effects in your pictures if you watch the light.

LIGHTING is, and always has been, of the greatest importance in picture-making—so today let's consider the subject of backlighting. There are several reasons why every photographer should frequently use backlighting in his picture-making.

First, it's an excellent means of dramatizing any subject.

Second, it's one of the primary methods of adding variety and extra interest to any snapshot collection.

And, on the third count, it's one of the most effective tricks I know in producing out-of-the-ordinary pictures.

All right, now what are the practical aspects of backlighting? In other words, how can it be made to work for you in your picture-making, rather than against you?

Well, remembering this: composing a backlighted picture will be no more difficult than composing any other snapshot if you let your inherent good taste guide you.

Exposure, however, is somewhat different for backlighted subjects than for "normal" subjects. If—as in many cases—you want a sort of silhouette effect, then the secret lies in a very short exposure. But, if you should want a good deal of detail in the shadows, then you've got to give at least 100 per cent extra exposure—twice as much as normal.

However, don't worry too much about technicalities. Remember to shade the lens from the sun and compose simply, but in any event try making pictures when the light is coming from behind your subject. You'll find its one certain way to get dramatic, interesting pictures.—John van Guilder.

That Body of Yours

by JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CANCER OF THE THROAT

A surgeon friend of mine showed me a patient, sixty-five years of age, who had consulted him because of a sore throat and persistent hoarseness.

When examined, it was found that he had cancer of the throat and owing to its location, surgery was inadvisable. Accordingly, treatment by radium was given and as I looked into the throat I was amazed at the size of the "hole" left in the throat and the healthy condition of the tissues. The man looked and felt very well. Had this case gone on a while longer it would have been too late for treatment, yet his only complaint was a slight soreness and persistent hoarseness.

It is because cancer of the throat often comes on with slight soreness only and hoarseness that it is overlooked by the patient and sometimes even by the physician. It is for this reason therefore that Drs. Chevalier Jackson and Dr. G. E. Pfahler, Philadelphia, keep reminding us that hoarseness that persists for more than two weeks should be investigated.

"Cancer of the larynx is best prevented by avoiding irritation, excessive or faulty use of the voice, inhaling smoke, dust, or fumes. From 70 to 80 per cent of such cancers can be cured if caught in the early stage when only a part of a vocal cord is involved. Danger signals are hoarseness or pain in the larynx."

We may be inclined to become discouraged about cancer because of the general statement, "Until the cause of cancer is discouraged, there is not much that can be done about it." As a matter of fact, much is known about the cause of cancer, in that "irritation," not a single irritation but continuous irritation can cause cancer in any "surface" tissue of the body in some individuals.

Remember, then, that "throat cancers are difficult to prevent and recognize. General warning is swelling or soreness around throat or tonsils that doesn't improve in two weeks."

If, then, you or any member of your family, particularly if of middle age, has a sore throat and hoarseness that does not respond to ordinary home treatment, you should consult your physician.

Early cancer is curable.

AUSTRALIAN PAPERS FURTHER RESTRICTED

SYDNEY, Australia, March 30 (CP).—Customs Minister R. V. Keane announced today that consumption of newsprint by daily, Sunday and weekly newspapers must further be reduced one-fourth because shipments of newsprint from North America have been suspended.

Australian newspapers for the past year already had reduced newsprint consumption to 55 per cent of prewar consumption. Australia's current stocks will last two years.

How It Started

"CAVIAR TO THE GENERAL"

Caviar to the general is not a military allusion.

The reference is to the common run of humanity, to the majority, "general," in other words, being an abbreviation for generality.

The significance then of the phrase is that of an acquired taste, not palatable at first, possibly expensive; therefore, above common comprehension.

The original application, of course, was to the roe of the sturgeon, which, when you get to like it, becomes a favorite appetizer.

We owe its figurative literary use to Shakespeare, through the medium of Hamlet, Act 2, Scene 2, in which the Prince of Denmark says:

"The play, I remember, pleased not the million; 'twas caviare to the general."

LECTURE ON A.R.P. HEARD AT GANGES

SALT SPRING ISLAND, March 30.—A representative gathering of about 200 persons from all parts of Salt Spring Island was present last Friday evening in Mahon Hall to listen to a lecture by Cpl. D. W. Taylor, Victoria, on air raid precautions and preparedness.

In plain and forceful language, Corporal Taylor tried to put before the residents of Salt Spring the grave danger which may arise from bombs and other enemy devices owing to the island's proximity to Patricia Bay. He strongly urged the people to learn how to cope with incendiary bombs. Should any fall either on the home or out of doors, and later in the evening a series of pictures with sound effects illustrated the correct way to deal with this menace.

At the conclusion of the lecture and moving pictures, Corporal Taylor answered many questions put to him by members of the Salt Spring Island A.R.P. Unit. N. W. Wilson, chairman of the local A.R.P., was chairman.

WILL SPEAK ON SOVIET RUSSIA

Dr. Anna Strong, Social Worker, to Be at Royal Victoria Theatre

In the forthcoming visit to Dr. Anna Louise Strong, who will be heard at the Royal Victoria Theatre on April 7 when she speaks on "Soviet Russia and the Far East," Victorians will have an opportunity of hearing a woman whose career ranks as unique among women of the world.

As journalist and social worker, she was eyewitness to famine and plague on the Volga in 1921, the early hardships of the Soviets of Russia and their gradual mastery of overwhelming problems, the uprising in Canton in 1925, the social struggle of Mexico at the time of Calles, the tragedy of the nationalists at Hankow in 1927, scenes of Loyalist heroism in war-ridden Spain and the atrocities committed by the Japanese against the Chinese people at Nanking. From the writings and lectures of Dr. Strong, the world was to learn much of these history-making events.

Born in Nebraska of cultured, pioneer American stock, Anna Louise Strong acquired her education at private schools and by a year and a half in Europe studying languages until she was considered old enough to enter Bryn Mawr, graduating from Oberlin. Several books of her poetry were published before she was thirteen and her first job was in her chosen profession as associate editor of a weekly paper in Chicago.

She then entered the University of Chicago, where she took her degree of doctor of philosophy, after which Dr. Strong organized and traveled through the United States as director of child welfare exhibits, but later returned to journalism, working on papers in Seattle, where her father was Congregationalist clergyman. In 1920, affiliating herself with the American Friends Service (Quakers), who were doing relief work in Poland and Russia, Dr. Strong went to Europe and shortly became correspondent for International News Service, which she served for many years from far-distant lands.

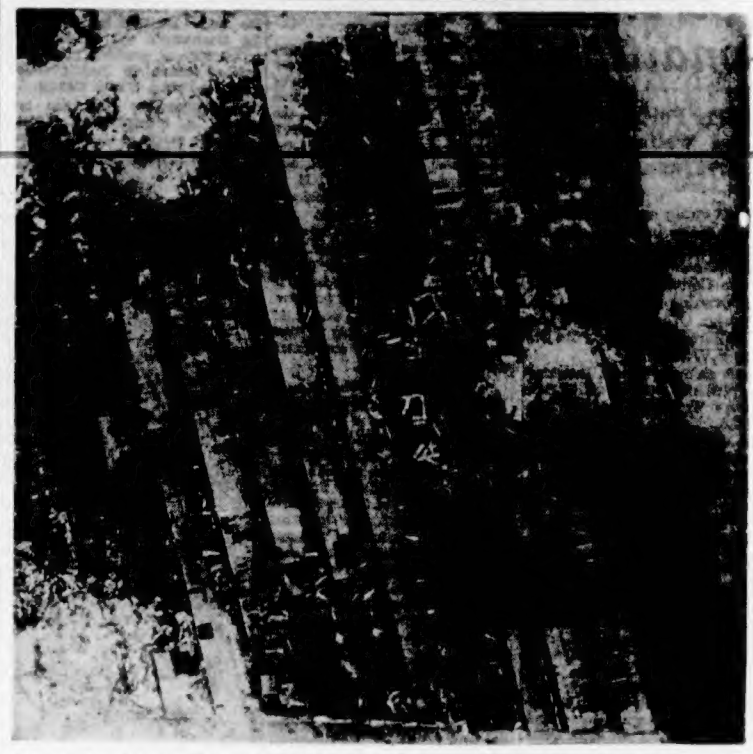

JAPANESE SENTENCED

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP). — When he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to register as an enemy alien, S. Nomura, Japanese, was sentenced to one month in jail by Police Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson today. He was unable to produce a registration card when he applied for evacuation from the Pacific Coast defence area.

GULF TO BE MINED

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 30 (AP).—The Ministry of War and Marine announced today that beginning April 1 the Gulf of Paria, between Trinidad and the mainland, would be mined. The United States has at Trinidad a defence base which was leased from Britain in the destroyer trade of 1940.

Bomb Factories Working for Nazis

Striking at French plants working for the Nazis, the R.A.F. blasted the Renault works at Billancourt, Paris, which was engaged in turning out tanks for the Axis. A view of the tank assembly section is pictured here, showing considerable fire damage. This picture was taken by a low-flying reconnaissance plane the day following the raid.

DAY OF PRAYER OBSERVED HERE

All Churches and Naval, Military And Air Camps Participate In Services

The national day of prayer was observed in Victoria district on Sunday when in all churches special prayers were offered for the Allied cause, and at the naval, military and air camps of the Pacific defence area similar devotions were conducted.

Churches of every denomination took part and the services were attended by large and devout congregations. Naval, military and air units paraded at their respective headquarters for the services.

A naval service was held in the morning in the drill hall of H.M.C.S. Naden No. 1, the officiating padres being Senior Chaplain Arthur Bischlager and Rev. Father Lauzon.

The officers' training corps at Gordon Head, the ordnance corps and artillery and infantry units paraded for service in the forenoon and in the evening a special service was held at the Esquimalt Military Hospital. The military padres officiating were Capt. H. A. Merklinger, Capt. S. E. Higgs and Capt. G. H. Hamilton.

About 100 officers and airmen of R.C.A.F. headquarters staff paraded from the Belmont House to St. John's Anglican Church, where Squadron Leader the Rev. S. J. Wickens conducted the service. There was a church parade in the evening at Patricia Bay, with Padre Noble Hatton in charge of the service.

W. P. Hasselman Gives Address to Ministers

W. P. Hasselman, a business man of Kobe, Japan, and a former resident of the Dutch East Indies, addressed the Victoria Ministerial Association yesterday at noon in the Y.W.C.A., on "The Pacific Situation." Mr. Hasselman's address was heartily received by churchmen.

Owing to the area on Mount Tolmie where the service was conducted last year, having been taken over, the annual Easter Sunrise service, formerly held under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, will not take place this year.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. J. L. W. McLean, president of the association.

Little Stories for Bedtime

The Plot of Two Rogues

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Reddy Fox studied and studied how he could catch Peter Rabbit. Sammy Jay, happening along, found Reddy sitting on his doorstep with his chin in both hands and looking as dejected as if he hadn't a friend in the world.

"What are you doing?" asked Sammy Jay.

"I'm just a-studying," replied Reddy Fox.

"What are you studying? Perhaps I can help you," said Sammy Jay.

Reddy Fox heaved a long sigh. "I'm a-studying how I can catch Peter Rabbit," replied Reddy.

Sammy Jay scratched his head thoughtfully. Reddy Fox still sat with his chin in his hands and thought and thought. Sammy Jay sat on one foot and scratched and scratched his head with the other. Suddenly Sammy looked up.

"I have it," said he. "You remember the hollow log over beyond the old hickory tree?"

Reddy nodded his head.

"Well, I'll go down and invite Peter Rabbit to come over there and see the strangest thing in the world. You know what tremendous curiosity Peter Rabbit has. Now, you be hiding in the hollow log and when you hear me say to Peter Rabbit 'The strangest thing in the world is waiting for you over there, Peter,' you spring out and you'll have Peter."

Reddy Fox brightened up. This plan certainly did look good to Reddy. Peter had fooled him so many times that he was almost in despair. He knew that if he sent another invitation to Peter, Peter would suspect right away that it meant mischief. But Peter wouldn't think that Sammy Jay was planning mischief, because he knew that Sammy is the greatest news teller in the Green Forest.

So Reddy Fox trotted off down to the hollow log down by the big hickory tree, and crept inside. Sammy Jay flew over to the Old Brier Patch to look for Peter Rabbit. He found him sitting under a big bramble bush.

"Good morning, Peter Rabbit," said Sammy Jay with his finest manner.

Peter looked at Sammy sharply as he returned his greeting. Sammy Jay wasn't in the habit of being so polite to Peter and Peter began to study just what it could mean.

"I saw the strangest thing in the world this morning," said Sammy Jay.

"I Saw the Strangest Thing in the World This Morning," Said Sammy Jay.

Peter pricked up his ears. In spite of himself he began to grow curious. "What was it, Sammy Jay?" he asked.

Sammy looked very mysterious. "I really don't know what it is," he replied, "but I can show it to you, if you want to see for yourself, Peter Rabbit."

Of course, Peter wanted to see it, so he started out across the Green Meadows with Sammy Jay. Now, the farther he went, the more time he had to think, and by the time he had nearly reached the old hickory tree, Peter began to suspect a trick.

Sammy Jay motioned to Peter to approach very carefully. "It's right over there in that hollow log, Peter," he whispered. "You go peep in and you'll see it." Then Sammy prepared to give the signal to Reddy Fox.

Peter hopped a couple of steps nearer and then he sat up very straight and gazed at the hollow log. Somehow he just didn't like the looks of it. He didn't know why, but he just didn't. Then along came one of Mother Westwinds' Merry Little Breezes dancing right past the hollow log and up to Peter Rabbit and with him he brought a funny smell. Peter's little black nose wrinkled. That funny smell certainly reminded Peter of Reddy Fox. He wrinkled his nose again. Suddenly he whirled about. "Excuse me, Sammy Jay" he exclaimed. "I just remember something very important!" And before Sammy Jay could open his mouth Peter had started like a little brown streak for the Old Brier Patch.

BURMA ROAD FILM NOW AT DOMINION

Story of China's Lifeline, "A Yank on the Burma Road," Stars Barry Nelson and Laraine Day

Highlighting China's lifeline, the Burma Road, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture "A Yank on the Burma Road" featuring Laraine Day and Barry Nelson, will open today, at the Dominion Theatre.

The picture opens in New York, where Nelson, a cocksure taxi driver, agrees to lead a fleet of trucks over the Burma Road for a Chinese society. At Rangoon he meets Miss Day, who tricks him into smuggling her into China, where she expects to meet her husband, a soldier of fortune.

The caravan gets under way, only to run into adventure, comedy, and a pathetic picture of the hardships the Chinese undergo with stoic patience. Overcoming all the difficulties the road can offer, including a battle in which Miss Day's husband is killed, Nelson leads his depleted caravan into Chungking.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Atlas — Kay Kyser and John Barrymore in "Playmates."

Cadet — Eleanor Powell and Robert Young in "Lady Be Good."

Capitol — Errol Flynn and Olivia De Havilland in "They Died With Their Boots On."

Dominion — "A Yank on the Burma Road," with Barry Nelson and Laraine Day.

Oak Bay and Plaza — Basil Rathbone and Elizabeth Bergner in "Paris Calling."

Rio — Deanna Durbin in "Three Smart Girls Grow Up."

York — Spencer Tracy and Hedy Lamarr in "I Take This Woman."

ATLAS THEATRE Novelties aplenty, including a battle-royal between John Barrymore and Lupe Velez, and Kay Kyser's swing version of Shakespeare, are featured in "Playmates," R.K.O. Radio's new tune-film, which will end tonight at the Atlas Theatre. May Robson, Patsy Kelley and Ginny Simms share feminine honors with Lupe in the high-speed comedy.

CADET THEATRE Eleanor Powell performs a tap dance written to eight-to-the-bar rhythm in "Lady Be Good," now showing at the Cadet Theatre. Miss Powell does the number in the film's finale, and dances to the music of five pianos. Others in the picture are Robert Young, Lionel Barrymore, John Carroll and Red Skelton.

CAPITOL THEATRE Warner Bros.' picture "They Died With Their Boots On" will end tonight, at the Capitol Theatre. This thrilling picture starring Errol Flynn and Olivia DeHavilland, deals with the life of General Custer. It follows him from his entry into West Point in 1857, through his Civil War triumphs, his hectic romance with Beth Bacon, to his famous last stand against the Sioux Indians in 1876.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES Practically every French player in Hollywood was employed in scenes of Universal's "Paris Calling," now showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. The picture stars the famed European star, Elizabeth Bergner. The story, which deals with Paris immediately after the invasion, used nearly a hundred "bit roles" in the telling.

RIO THEATRE Bob Cummings, one of Deanna Durbin's two leading men in Universal's "Three Smart Girls Grow Up," now at the Rio Theatre, is one of the leading aviators of the Hollywood film colony. Cummings has held a pilot's licence for the past twelve years. Helen Parrish, Nan Grey and William Lundigan are starred with Miss Durbin.

YORK THEATRE Hedy Lamarr gives an outstanding performance in "I Take This Woman" the emotional drama now showing at the York Theatre. In this picture she is co-starred with Spencer Tracy, the two-time Academy Award winner. The film tells the story of a social butterfly whose romance crashes, but who finally finds love and happiness.

New Demands Made On Social Services By War Conditions

Radio Play by Mrs. Kenneth Barr Portrays Development of Organized Social Welfare Work Here—Joint Meeting Receives Nominations

WAR conditions have put an added strain on the resources of the Community Chest and in many instances the increased work of local agencies has called for larger allotments from the chest funds, F. E. Winslow, president, announced at the annual meeting of the Community Chest and Council of Social Agencies, held last evening at the Y.W.C.A. This was particularly true of the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Children's Aid Society, the Family Welfare Association, the St. John Ambulance Association and the Y.W.C.A.

The finances of the Community Chest Mr. Winslow reported to be in a healthy condition, expenses being kept at a minimum and the financial statement presented by E. W. McMullen, honorary treasurer, showed payments totaling $64,522.70 to welfare organizations of the city in the year ending December, 1941. Included in the Community Chest organizations were the Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital, the Auxiliary to St. Vincent de Paul, Boy Scout Association, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Social Service Index, Children's Aid Society, Citizens' Recreation Room, Columbia Coast Mission, Esquimalt Friendly Help, Family Welfare Association, Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp, John Howard Society, Oak Bay Friendly Help, Rainbow Sea Cadets, Saanich Welfare Association, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Sunshine Inn, Victorian Order of Nurses, Women's Workroom, Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

Mr. Winslow congratulated the directors of the Community Chest campaign, W. P. D. Pemberton (chairman), Harold Wilson, Miss Spencer and Frank Paulding, director, as well as the many men and women who gave hours of their time in canvassing.

BOARD MEMBERS

Nominations to the board of the Community Chest, nine from the Council of Social Agencies and twelve from the public at large, were as follows: F. E. Winslow, E. W. McMullen, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. F. A. Lindsay, Miss Sara Spencer, Mrs. R. R. Taylor, George MacDonald, Dr. Olga Jardine, and Mrs. W. H. Molson, W. P. D. Pemberton, C. C. Simpson, E. E. Henderson, Senator G. H. Barnard, Duncan MacBride, G. C. Parrott, H. I. Mallek, Mrs. Carew Martin, R. B. Matthews, Captain Burges Gadsden, Harold Wilson, and a representative to be appointed by the Trades and Labor Council.

COUNCIL REPORTS

Joseph McKenna, chairman of the Council of Social Agencies, explained that the council was chiefly concerned with the welfare angle of social work, and reviewed the past year's accomplishments which included a conference under the chairmanship of Dr. Richard Felton, when speakers from Vancouver and Seattle, as well as Victoria, had dealt with health and welfare matters.

Mr. McKenna proposed that the council embody a more widely representative membership which would give a complete and efficient coverage of the city's welfare problems. He explained the function of the Social Service Index as a means of recording assistance given and enabling the workers to establish the status of applicants, thus giving the quickest help possible.

Nominations to the council executive were as follows, the president to be elected by the board: Dr. Richard Felton, Rev. Hugh MacLeod, Mrs. Isaac Fleming, J. H. Creighton, E. C. Snowden, F. E. Winslow, A. D. Corker, Alderman P. E. George, Mrs. A. I. Spurgin, Miss Lyna Mess, Miss A. Creasor, W. T. Straith, M.P.P., E. L. St. Martin, Adjutant Habkirk, Mrs. M. Cushing and A. McFarlane.

Mr. McKenna thanked the outgoing executive for its co-operation and the city, Saanich and Esquimalt Municipalities for their aid during his term of office.

PIONEERS GREETED

W. H. Bone, a guest at the meeting, recalled his early associations with the Y.M.C.A. sixty-seven years ago, and promised his continued support to the organization. Miss Mary Lawson, O.B.E., for many years secretary of the Friendly Help Society, was also greeted with enthusiastic applause as she was introduced to the audience by Mr. Winslow.

RADIO PLAY

Stimulating and informative was the cleverly prepared radio play sketching the history and growth of social service work in this community, which was broadcast from the meeting over Radio Station CJVI. Mrs. Frances Barr, secretary of the council and of the Community Chest, wrote the scrip and H. S. Hurn, president of the Children's Aid Society, was the director.

From the city directory of 1875, Victoria, with a population of 3,270, was described as "the gem of the Pacific, with a climate superior to that of England." Seven butchers, ten bakers and six tailors were listed among the business firms of that date, but no places of amusement were recorded.

Y.M.C.A. FORMED

The Y.M.C.A. was formed in that year by a small group of men realizing the need for organized amusement. The year 1884 saw the establishment of the first women's auxiliary to the association. In 1892, with a population of 16,840, Victoria saw the organization of the first Y.W.C.A. with its interest in women's and girls' welfare, and its steady growth into the present well-established association, playing an ever-increasingly important part in the life of the community.

SALVATION ARMY

The play moved on, recalling the visit of General William Booth in 1894-95, when he approached the Provincial Government in the interests of the unemployed of the city, with the subsequent establishment of the Salvation Army in this city. The "gay 90's" were painted as anything but gay, and one society after another for the betterment of social conditions sprang up in the city.

LOCAL COUNCIL

In 1895, Victoria elected the first woman school trustee in Canada and that same year the Local Council of Women was formed. The population had grown to 18,000 and a group of women, seeing the necessity for greater assistance to the unfortunate, the ill, the poor and the troubled, the Friendly Help Society was formed with Miss Mary Lawson, O.B.E., director. In 1901 the Children's Aid Society came into being with the mission of caring for young delinquents, protecting children from cruelty, and seeing to the general welfare of the youth of the city. Institutional care by the society was abandoned in 1903 when the foster home system was adopted.

Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Sea Cadets were established in Victoria in 1910, further caring for the needs of the city's children by supplying healthy invigorating occupations.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE

The St. John Ambulance Association, which is playing an enormous part in this war in preparing civilians to efficiently meet disaster, first appeared in Victoria in 1912, just previous to the last Great War. Then, as now, its services were indispensible and in 1939 the organization was greatly enlarged.

The system of visiting nurses was replaced by the V.O.N., staffed by expertly trained nurses, in 1913 and the annals of the order proclaim proudly in 1917 the purchase of a "new car complete with self starter" for the use of the nurse. Amusing and tragic glimpses of the early history of the nursing order were portrayed in the play. The hardships the last war wrought on the civilian population gave rise to the Canadian Patriotic Society, which looked after the needs of soldiers' dependants as far as possible.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

Rehabilitation problems were difficult to solve in the early '20's and the Provincial Government enacted the mothers' pension scheme which was followed in 1926 by the adoption of the Old-Age Pension Act. In 1928 $60,000 was expended by the Provincial Government for the alleviation of stress and the following year $450,000 was paid by the Province to those needing financial aid.

The first legislation for unemployment relief came into being in 1930 and a dramatic portrayal of the depression years was given by the actors, who sketched the growing demands of a poverty-stricken public on the private social agencies, and the limited resources of the city. The City Welfare Agency was established in 1932, helping 4,325 people that first year, and expending $518,747. The Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children was opened in 1927 and in 1933 the Social Service Index was organized.

COMMUNITY CHEST

The Community Chest made its first organized public appeal for funds in 1937 and it now serves to subsidize twenty welfare organizations, listeners to the play were informed by Gregory Crawley, principal commentator throughout the broadcast. Credit was given church organizations, the I.O.D.E., the Canadian Legion and other societies active in community welfare work.

Taking part were Edith Gibson, Elizabeth Smith, David McMillan, Arthur Kerr, H. S. Hurn and Frances Barr. Cecil Boulter played incidental piano accompaniments.

F. E. Winslow announced the play and thanked the actors, Mrs. Barr and Mr. Hurn.

INTERNED IN MANILA

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP).—Francis B. Sayre, United States High Commissioner of the Philippines, today released the names of more than 1,500 persons, mostly Americans, interned in Manila and said the International Red Cross was attempting to secure the appointment of a Swiss citizen to act as its representative there.

WILL CONSIDER WINTER GASOLINE RATIONING

VANCOUVER, March 30.—G. R. Cottrelle, oil controller, has advised the Automobile Club by letter that the Government will consider the advisability of granting additional gasoline ration to Pacific Coast motorists during Winter months.

The Automobile Club had requested a redistribution of the yearly gas ration to the Coast area as British Columbia's mild climate permits car travel throughout the Winter.

It would not mean that motorists would receive extra ration cards but that some of the ration coupons for Summer months could be used in Winter.

No change can be made in the present rationing scheme for several months, Mr. Cotterelle advised. It is still too early to predict what amount of gasoline will be available next Winter.

Destroyer Has Better of Fight

LONDON, March 30 (CP). — The British destroyer Brocklesby, added to the fleet since the start of the war, destroyed one Junkers 88 dive bomber and badly damaged another, the Admiralty announced today.

The time and place of the destroyer's fight with the German planes was not disclosed, but the Admiralty said the Brocklesby was undamaged and its crew unhurt.

EGYPT WILL DO ALL TO KEEP OUT OF WAR

CAIRO, March 30 (AP).—King Farouk opened Parliament today with a speech, declaring: "Egypt will do all within its power to avoid war."

He added that the Anglo-Egyptian Treaty, under which British armed forces use Egypt as a base, would be adhered to, and that work on defensive communications would be pushed forward.

Technically Egypt is at peace with the Axis, but German and Italian bombers have raided Cairo, Alexandria and the Suez Canal, and have attacked railways along her Mediterranean coast.

Forests of pine and spruce cover more than half the area of Sweden.

MAKE A "DATE" WITH Clear-Eyed Morning Freshness

Try New, Improved Ovaltine

Thousands are finding that New, Improved Ovaltine helps them to relax at bedtime, fostering refreshing sleep and waking up clear-eyed and buoyant. Here's how it acts:

(1) A cup of warm Ovaltine at bedtime helps the body to relax, relieving that feeling of "nervous tension".
(2) It is specially processed to prevent digestive unrest.
(3) Its food elements help to replenish the body while you sleep.

New, Improved Ovaltine, scientifically standardized provides more of Vitamins A, B1, and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron, than ever before.

So if you are a poor sleeper, or waken tired or dull, why not turn to Ovaltine at bedtime? See if you do not wake up more refreshed, clear-eyed and joyously alive! Get a tin today at your drug or food store.
